Eagles oust Pickerington

COLUMBUS (AP) — Brandie Hoskins scored 18 points and rallied Dayton Chaminade-Julienne from an 11-point first-half deficit as the Eagles beat Pickerington 40-35 in a Division I regional championship yesterday.

Hoskins hit two 3-pointers and had 10 points in the third quarter as Chaminade-Julienne (24-2) came back from a 21-16 halftime deficit to tie the game at 30.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Hoskins blocked a shot and got the rebound and Ashley Goldsberry then hit a 3-pointer to give the Eagles their first lead, 33-30.

Cin. Wyoming 54, Versailles 28

VANDALIA — Maria McCarthy scored 19 points and Jenni McGee had 12 points as Wyoming beat Versailles in a Division III regional championship.

Wyoming (22-3) held Versailles to five field goals in the first half as it built a 26-10 halftime lead over Versailles (25-1), which finished the regular season as the top-ranked team in The Associated Press poll.

S. Euclid Regina 64, Youngs Ursuline 34

ALLIANCE — Siedah Williams scored 14 points and had 11 rebounds as South Euclid Regina beat Youngstown Ursuline in a Division III regional championship.

Ari Moore also scored 14 for Regina (23-3) and Sarah Burgess and Stacey Little had 10 points apiece.

Regina jumped to a 19-5 lead at the end of the first quarter and led 37-13 at the half.

Beavercreek 59, Cin. Mother of Mercy 23

DAYTON — Allison Bailes scored 18 points and Tiffany Webb added 16 as Beavercreek jumped to a 13-0 lead and went on to beat Cincinnati Mother of Mercy in a Division I regional championship.

Beavercreek (26-0) held Mother of Mercy (20-5) to just 21 percent shooting for the game, 7-of-33, and two field goals in the first 14 minutes as it built a 30-9 halftime lead.

Sardinia Eastern Brown 66, Beverly Fort Frye 54

LANCASTER — Micah Harvey scored 19 points as Sardinia Eastern Brown beat Beverly Fort Frye in a Division IV regional championship.

The Lady Warriors (25-0) hit 14 free throws in the fourth quarter to eliminate the Lady Cadets (24-2) in the regional finals for the second straight year.

Krista Ferguson and Leslie Knoch each had 25 points for Fort Frye. Brenna Morris had 16 points for Eastern Brown and Elizabeth Burrows had 11.

Tol. Cent. Cath. 45, Cella 32

ASHLAND — Kelly Helvey scored 21 points, including several key baskets that helped Toledo Central Catholic beat Cella in a Division I regional final.

The Fighting Irish (24-2) held the Bulldogs (22-3) to four points in the third quarter, and Helvey scored seven of her team's eight points in the period as Central Catholic took a 28-23 lead.

Central Catholic put the game away by scoring five straight points in 10 seconds in the fourth quarter.

Worthington Christian 56, Crooksville 52

PICKERINGTON — Karah Walton scored 18 points as Worthington Christian beat Crooksville in a girls Division IV regional championship.

Walton hit a 3-pointer and Nicole Stone hit a jumper and two free throws to put the Warriors (23-3) up 54-48 with 1:52 to play.

two," Terry said. "That was something we never saw before.

"But I think if we would've stayed focused and not rushed things, we still could've executed in it. But we panicked, we missed shots ... when you get down by 15, it's tough to come back."

Especially when the Wildcats — already decidedly undersized — were forced to play without their tallest player in Jessica Fraley.

Fraley, who led Keystone with five points, picked up her second foul with 2:29 left in the first quarter. By then it was 12-0. She didn't return until the final seconds of the first half.

Keystone finished the game 6-of-41 from the field and turned the ball over 22 times, compared to Patrick Henry's 12.

Brandy Terry, who finished with just two points from the foul line, said the players weren't as loose yesterday as they were before Wednesday night's semifinal.

"The name of the game is the regional final," she said. "But still our attitude was just to have fun."

Freshman Amanda Terry had all four of Keystone's first-half points, the first coming on a jumper early in the second quarter and the second basket on a jumper with just over two minutes left in the half.

By then the Patriots had built a 25-4 lead and started making plans for Columbus.

"We knew this was a good team," Brandy Terry said. "Our shots just didn't fall.

"Our goal was to keep them under 50 points and we accomplished that, but our offense just wasn't working."

Scott Terry made the goal of holding the Patriots under 50 as the game was progressing and slowly getting out of hand.

"I'm proud of the girls' defensive effort," he said. "Only two teams held them under 50 points this year, and we were one of them."

"This was a learning experience and that's good. We needed it. We learned an awful lot today."

REVENGE

"The lane was wide open," Barrison said. "I was thinking of the championship and how hard we worked for it. We didn't want to let the people down."

The other five points in the run were from Derek Fey as he drove to the hole for two and got two more on an inbound job from Nick Dials. Fey added 10 points to the Flashes scoring, but it was 10 rebounds in the second half and 14 for the game that was his biggest contribution.

"I know it's my job to rebound," Fey said. "I knew I needed to get the job done. We know what we need to do to win and we do it."

Dials led the Flashes with 15 points, but that was mostly on 10-of-12 from the foul line and not so much from the floor. Dials said he was looking for a little help from his friends.

"Tonight I wasn't really hitting them — they picked me up tonight," he said.

But it is defense and not shooting that wins games according to Willard coach Greg Nossaman.

"I was very happy with the way they followed our game plan," he said. "Half court man-to-man defense wins championships. I don't think they hit a three tonight."

Early on, the intensity of the defense took its toll on both teams' shooting. Both hovered around the 10-percent mark in the first quarter.

The highlight of the quarter was a scramble by Dials and Loar for a loose ball that led to Nick Strance being open in the corner. Strance hit the lone trey for the quarter and gave the Flashes a 7-3 lead at the 2:23 mark.

Shelby responded against the Willard 1-3-1 zone in the second quarter and closed in. Willard responded each time the Whippets made a run, except for the last second shot by A.J. Alt. That made the halftime score 20-18, Willard.

Shelby took its only lead other than scoring first in the game, starting the third quarter. Shelby turned the 20-18 halftime deficit into a 22-20 Shelby advantage. Willard took the lead back with a Strance triple, followed by a 3-pointer from Dials and a bucket by Loar to go back up by six and take a lead that they would never give up.

Now the challenge facing the Flashes is Ottawa-Glandorf. "We've talked all season about raising the bar," Nossaman said.

"Wednesday night, we've got a chance to raise it. We will regroup and be ready to play Ottawa-Glandorf on Wednesday."

Shorem men fall to Gansey, Bulldogs

By THERESA NEUHOFF
Morning Journal Writer

LORAIN — For one quarter, Mike Gansey barely made a peep for Olmsted Falls.

The Bulldogs' 6-foot-4 senior forward didn't score in the first quarter, but he scored plenty in the final three quarters to make up for it. He finished with a game-high 30 points and team-high 10 rebounds, leading the 'Dogs to a 64-47 Division II District Championship victory over Avon Lake last night at Admiral King High School.

"My shot wasn't falling in the first quarter because their zone rattled us," said Gansey, while clutching a piece of net he cut from the basket following the win. "But finally things started working out for us and my teammates got me the ball so I could score."

The Shoremen (who finished their season 20-4 and 12-2 in the Southwestern Conference) had their last lead of the contest in the second quarter. After a jumper inside by Tom Port, Avon Lake led 24-21 with 3:30 left in the first half. But Gansey, who is continuing his basketball career on a full scholarship at Division I St. Bonaventure, closed the second with a steal and layin followed by a putback as time expired.

His back-to-back field goals gave the Bulldogs (19-4 and SWC winners at 13-1) a 25-24 lead at intermission which they did not relinquish. In the second quarter alone, Gansey totaled 12 of his team's 18 points. He outscored Avon Lake's entire squad in the second, 12-11.

"I was happy with the first half, especially the first quarter when Mike (Gansey) wasn't involved," Avon Lake coach Dave Olinger said. "But things just got away from us in the second half and it snowballed from there."

The Shoremen committed two costly turnovers to start the third quarter. Gansey converted one of Avon Lake's miscues on a layup, while teammate Armando Flores added a jumper. The Bulldogs extended their lead to 29-24 while the Shoremen refused to let the game slip away.

In the final minutes of the third quarter, Avon Lake cut its opponent's lead to three points (35-32). Justin Booher had a pair of jumpers for the Shoremen, Port added a shot inside and Brian Ingleight hit two free throws.

But for each Avon Lake run, the Bulldogs had a response. They closed the third with a 4-0 run for a 39-32 lead going into the final quarter.

"We had a ton of turnovers in the second half and that killed us," said Port, who had a game-high 15 rebounds (including 10 defensively) and a team-high 21 points. "Our turnovers let them get back into the game."

"Things just didn't work for us in the second half. They played better and it showed."

Port hit a pair of 3-pointers in the fourth quarter to help cut the Bulldogs' lead to seven points (50-43 with three minutes left). But that was as close as the Shoremen came to catching the 'Dogs, who closed the game with a 14-4 run.

"A few weeks ago when we played them (Avon Lake), they didn't play zone against us, but we expected it tonight," said Olmsted Falls coach Pat Donahue, whose team advanced to the regional semifinals on Wednesday at Cleveland State University. "We executed as well as we would have liked against their zone."

In the first quarter, the Shoremen outscored Falls, 13-7. Port led his team in the first with five points. Avon Lake shot 5-of-11 from the field while the 'Dogs went 3-of-12 during the first quarter.

Along with Port, Avon Lake was led in scoring by senior guards Ingleight (13 points) and Booher (nine).

"We just got beat by a better team tonight," said Ingleight, whose squad won the district championship last season (57-47) against Olmsted Falls and advanced to the regional finals. "We had a lot of goals that didn't get accomplished this season and that hurts."

GOLF ROUNDUP

Parnevik maintains lead after calm day at Honda Classic

CORAL SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — Heron Bay's best defender took the day off yesterday. Jesper Parnevik, along with the rest of the field, took advantage.

On a rare, windless day when the flags didn't sway unless they were being taken out of the holes, the only significant movement at the Honda Classic was on the leaderboard.

Parnevik shot a 6-under-par 66 in the third round to retain a three-shot lead at 18 under, breaking J.P. Hayes' 54-hole tournament record of 200 set last year. Mark Calcavecchia (66) was 15 under, followed by Geoff Ogilvy (65) and Dan Forsman (65) at 14 under.

"Three shots is not as big as it sounds," Parnevik said.

Through nine tournaments this season, six winners have come from behind on the final day.

Lee Janzen tied the course record with a 64 but was five strokes back along with John Daly, who shot a 67. Forsman started the day in a 13-way tie for ninth place, while Janzen and Forsman were deadlocked in 29th.

"It was a completely different golf course today," Ogilvy said. "It was there for the taking."

And nearly everyone did. Only two players, Stephen Ames and Gabriel Hjertstedt, were over par. Both shot 73. Ty Tryon, a 16-year-old high school sophomore who became the second youngest player to make the cut, at a PGA Tour event, shot a 2-under 70 and was 6 under (tied for 51st) heading into the final round. "I just don't want it to end," Tryon said.

LPGA Welch's Circle K
TUCSON, Ariz. — Annika Sorenstam took everything the Randolph Park North course would give her during a windy third round at the Welch's Circle K Championship — and needed it.

The defending champion shot a 5-under-par 67, enough for a record 54-hole lead of 16-under 200 and a two-shot lead on Se Ri Pak.

First- and second-round leader Jen Hanna wilted under the pressure of the hard greens, wind gusts to 32 mph and a head-to-head pairing with Sorenstam, but managed two birdies on the back nine to shoot 72 and finish third, three shots off the lead.

Dottie Pepper, the 1995 champion, was alone at 204, with Laura Diaz, Dorothy Delasin and Deb Richard at 205.

Michele Redman, whose ace on the 177-yard 11th hole helped her salvage a 69, Brandie Burton, Grace Park and Becky Iverson were at 206

Women's Australian Open

MELBOURNE, Australia — Sophie Gustafson went eagle-birdie-eagle to close her round, surging past defending champion Karrie Webb to take a four-stroke lead entering the last day of the Australian Open.

The Swede was trailing Webb by one stroke before going 5 under for the last three holes, leaving her with a 66 and a 205 total after three rounds.

Webb had a 69 on a gusty day and is tied with Jane Crafter of Australia at 209. Webb is trying to become the first repeat champion of the Australian Open.

Florida Classic

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — John Patterson fired a 7-under 64 for a one-stroke lead after three rounds of the Florida Classic, the season-opening event on the Buy.com Tour.

Patterson had nine birdies en route to a three-round total of 11-under 202.

Lee Rinker (67), Mike Heinen (68) and Ryuji Imada (68) are one stroke off the lead. Jeff Freeman (65), Brian Tennison (66) and second-round co-leader Rod Pamplung (71) are two strokes off the pace at 204.

SBC Senior PGA Classic

SANTA CLARITA, Calif. — Larry Nelson's 8-under-par 64 tied the course record and moved him in to a tie with Jim Colbert for the lead in the SBC Senior PGA Classic.

Colbert finished the round with a 67. The duo was at 10-under 134 and will play together in today's final round over the par-72 course.

Catar Masters

DOHA, Qatar — Angel Cabrera of Argentina shot a 5-under-par 67 to share a one-stroke lead with Robert Karlsson of Sweden entering the last round of the Catar Masters.

The two were at 13-under 203. Tony Johnstone of Zimbabwe (66) and Dean Robertson of Scotland (68) were at 204, with Olivier Edmond of France at 206 after a 71.
