AVON LAKE — The first two rounds of action are in the books at the 14th Annual Knights of Columbus/Avon Lake Invitational wrestling tournament Friday.

Semifinal action commences this morning at 11 a.m. with the finals slated for 6:30 p.m.

Elyria Catholic sends five into semifinal round action. Freshman Scott Burnett (103), sophomore Scott Hector (119), junior John Dunstan (125), senior Steve Ross (135) and junior state placer Steve Brush (145) logged two wins apiece in Friday's competition. Burnett recorded a 13-3 decision and a fall. Hector eeked out wins of 2-0 in overtime and 5-2. Dunstan breezed into the semis with a fall and a 15-1 win. Ross prevailed with a fall and an 8-0 shutout while Brush nipped Avon Lake's Ryan Stewart 7-6 in the prelims and registered a 39 second fall in round two.

Sophomore Chris Chidlaw (103), senior Rick Nicholson (112) and Henry Meadows (125) remain unbeaten after two bouts for Elyria. Nicholson has taken runnerup honors here the last two years. He defeated a pesky EC freshman Ed Cecil 6-4 in the quarterfinals.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL NOTEBOOK

LORAIN HIGH played Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Friday night in its boys basketball game with visiting Keystone. The Steelmen shot 50 per cent from the field, hitting 8 of 16, and committed only two turnovers in racing out to an 18-9 lead going into the second period. They once had a 13-1 edge. Keystone didn't get a field goal until 4:20 remained in the first quarter. Then came Dr. Jekyll. The second quarter was a nightmare. Keystone outscored Lorain 15-6 as the Steelmen connected on just 1 of 14 field goal attempts and were outrebounded 15-7. Lorain didn't score a field goal until only :42 remained in the half.

ELYRIA HIGH has had to defend 54 three-point shots in two years against Bay High. The Rockets made 17. Last year the Rockets were just seven of 33 from the three-point line in a 68-61 loss to Elyria. This year they were 10 of 21, but lost by a similar score, 66-61.

Because they snoot so many threes, the Rockets have had trouble drawing fouls.

"We didn't get to the line much last year and we probably won't this year," said Bay coach Dick Scott.

Nevertheless, the Rockets are tough to defense because they spread the opponent, drive into seams and throw the ball out for threes. They have four three-point shooters in the starting lineup. Bay was hurt when Ryan Scott fouled out less than two minutes into the fourth quarter.

PERHAPS MIDVIEW'S Anthony Stacey was bluffing in a pregame contest at Wellington Friday night. The contest, which required one dollar to participate, promised a prize of two dollars if the shooter is able to connect on a three point field goal. Stacey provided a sizeable donation to the contest fund, but assured viewers that he was saving himself for the game. Sure enough, Stacey was on the money by tipping, scoring 36 points, including 10 of 12 from the foul line.

ELYRIA CATHOLIC lit up the home crowd in the second quarter Friday night against St. Edward, sinking six of eight three-point shots. The explosion helped EC overcome a 23-12 first quarter deficit and grab a 43-40 lead at halftime. Unfortunately, the rest of the night the Panthers netted only four of 14 from the three-point stripe the other three quarters

ZAC FIEBIG of Westlake was charged with a technical foul for hanging on the rim after a slam dunk at 2:28 in the first quarter of the Demons' 84-41 victory over North Ridgeville Friday night. It hardly mattered as far as the outcome was concerned, but showed a new Fiebig.

"Even that was a plus tonight," Coach Art Daniels said. "Zac thought there was someone underneath him (on the dunk). In past years he would have thrown a tantrum, then said something to get himself thrown out of the game. Tonight he said a little and walked away. It was good to see."

MIKE NIEDERST kept Elyria Catholic's hopes alive in the fourth quarter against St. Edward Friday night with seven of his 16 points, and with his overall hustle. He gamely chased down a loose ball the length of the court with 30 seconds left. Sadly, the Panthers missed the subsequent shot.

work and intensity all the way around," Daniels added. "Our depth is going to wear down opponents and make their shots fall short."

Shooting was North Ridgeville's problem in the last two quarters. The Rangers hit four of 16 field goal attempts in the third period and were 2-of-16 from the field in the final stanza.

"We made four or five crucial mistakes in the first half," Rade-maker said. "If we don't make them it's a lot closer of a game. In the second half we tried to do things we're not good at doing."

Olmsted Falls shoots past Avon

OLMSTED FALLS — Matt Tabar's seven three-pointers and game-high 27 points led Olmsted Falls to an 81-50 non-conference victory over Avon Friday night.

Tim Schaefer's 24 points also was a big boost to the Bulldogs who outscored the Eagles a 24-12 margin in the first quarter and a 24-13 count in the third stanza. Anthony Danicki topped the Avon scorebook with nine points.

Both teams have their first league games next Friday, the Bulldogs (4-0) traveling to Amherst for a Southwestern Conference contest. The Eagles (0-2) journey to Wellington for a Lorain County Conference encounter.
