CHUCK HUMEL / CHRONICLE

TO THE HOOP: Elyria's Adam Larrick soars for two of his game-high 26 points

PIONEERS

From D1

The Pioneers were 10 of 13 at the line on the night.

"The double weekends are getting to us," the senior Walsh said when asked if the tough one-point loss to Admiral King the night before had anything to do with his team's performance. "We're not very deep. We just didn't play very well particularly on defense. At times there were sparks, but no consistency to it.

"Elyria did a good job. I'm not sure exactly what it was, maybe the pressure. We got shots we normally make but we turned it over and overpassed it at times. We just didn't play well at all."

Just about everyone in Elyria's lineup, however, did play well. Adam Larrick led the scoring with 26 points, but Brian Todd added 14 and did an exceptional defensive job on Vermilion's high scoring Ian Hollis. Yes, Hollis did finish with 15 points to lead the Sailors, but he hardly touched the ball in the first half.

Isaac Johnson ran the offense and kept Vermilion's defense honest with 11 points on a perfect four of four from the field including a three and two of two at the line. Mark Gatewood came off the bench and hit a couple of quick baskets at just the right time to quell Vermilion's surge.

"Mike's got a nice team," said Bob, "and they're getting better. He needs to keep after them because they have a lot of room for improvement yet. They played well tonight and yeah, I'm proud of him. He's done a good job."

In the junior varsity game five Elyria players (Nick Glowacki, Brian Hopkins, Pat Quinn, Jamie Collins, and Gene Legeza) scored in double figures as the Pioneers raced to a 77-52 victory over the Sailors. Elyria is now 9-0 against Erie Shore opponents and 10-5 overall. Jeremy Kirk had 16 points for Vermilion.

The Pioneers, after four straight back-to-back weekends, play only once this weekend, but it's a big one Friday at Midview, which along with Lorain and Elyria is just one-game back of Sandusky. Vermilion hosts Southview.

AMHERST

From D1

Then, after several exchanges of the ball, he made the first of a one-and-one free throw situation with 44 seconds remaining for a 49-47 lead.

White missed the second and Todd Compton rebounded for Westlake but only 26 seconds remained when time was called. After the break, Hamann threw the ball down the floor to Fisher, who was tied up by the Comets' Mike May. The possession arrow favored Amherst and the game was over.

"The kids needed this," Amherst coach Dave Zvara said. "It might have crushed us if we hadn't come through with it. I told the players we deserved one.

"White has been struggling from the foul line and with his threes. He's been coming in during his lunch period to shoot. It paid off for him tonight. But all these kids are this way."

The Comets were backed into a corner by their loss to North Olmsted the night before and that had Westlake coach Art Daniels worried.

"Their loss Friday scared me more than if they had won," Daniels said. "Not so much because of their attitude but because our kids might relax a bit. And we might have done that.

"We still control our own destiny though," Daniels continued. "And I told the kids we're in better shape as we start the second half of the conference than when we started the first half. We're up one up, so we're in good shape, although not as good as we could have been."

Zvara isn't about to make any predictions about the second half.

"We're only one behind but it doesn't get any easier. We have Olmsted Falls over there and I'm sure they will be ready for us."

Amherst, 8-5 overall and 5-2 in the SWC, is at Falls Friday. Westlake, 10-2 and 6-1, travels to Normandy Tuesday for a non-league game before hosting Fairview Friday in another SWC meeting.
