FAIRBORN — In Fairview they call him "Champ, Champ, Champ."

Senior sensation Drew Pariano won his third consecutive state title, deciding Orrville's Shane Hartzler 8-3 at the 58th State Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

Avon Lake's Shawn Deiston, Warrior teammate Pat Knaze and Bay's Brian Todd earned seconds.

"I didn't care how I won it, just so I won," said Pariano. "This third time has been the toughest because people assumed that I would win. They don't know how many tough kids there are out there."

Pariano had little trouble with Hartzler, building a 5-0 lead after two periods, including a pair of takedowns. An escape and a third takedown rounded out the scoring.

Unbeaten (36-0) for the second year, Pariano picked up his school's 10th state title. He also became Ohio's 22nd three-time state champ in the 38-year history of the event.

It is the fifth consecutive state crown for the Pariano family. Older brother Anthony copped titles in 1991 and 1992.

Pariano was voted the Division II Wrestler of the Year.

Fairview earned its 10th top-10 finish, finishing fifth with 48.5 points. Clyde won the Division II title with 77.5 points.

Bristow was defeated 7-0 in his bid to become Avon Lake's second state champion.

Still, the 130-pound junior did become the Shoreman's first two-time state-placer, earning a fourth here last year while taking runner-up honors in his second state appearance.

After a scoreless first period, Mentor Lake Catholic's Brandon Steinmetz (fifth last year) earned a second-period reversal for a 2-0 lead. Bristow took the neutral position for the final two minutes but it was Steinmetz who got the takedown 45 seconds into the period. Three nearfall points ended the scoring.

"He was a strong kid," said Bristow. "I was a little jittery before the match. I learned that I have to stay on offense to be successful. I'm going to keep working hard on my offense."

Said Avon Lake coach Ken Weaver: "One of our goals was to finish in the top 10 here and we did that for the first time in Avon Lake history."

Avon Lake earned 36 points, good for an eighth-place tie.

"We have 12 starters returning next year," Weaver said. "The nucleus of our team will be our two state-placers. Things look very promising."

Todd, a 39-3 senior, surrendered a takedown with 30 seconds remaining in his 145-pound match, falling 6-5 to 39-0 senior Butch Hildebrand from Eaton.

Ray finished 10th in the team race with 35 points.

Knaze lost to long-time nemesis and three-time state champ John McGhee of Akron Coventry, 5-3. Knaze grabbed a 2-0 lead in his 152-pound championship match with a first period takedown. Two McGhee escapes (first and second period) tied the match at 2-2. Knaze regained the advantage (3-2) with a third-period escape. Knaze was hit with a questionable stalling point, again knotting the contest (3-3). McGhee was awarded a takedown and the state crown with one second remaining in the match.

It was McGhee's fourth triumph in as many tries against Knaze.

Knaze (30-3) finished fourth here last year while earning a third his sophomore year.

Bay senior Colin O'Donoghue rebounded from a disappointing 1-0 setback in Friday's semifinals, reeling off five consecutive victories for a third place at 125 pounds. O'Donoghue earned a fifth here last year.

O'Donoghue won by 9-5 and 9-3 decisions Saturday, finishing his senior year at 41-3.

Avon Lake junior Ryan Pallinger rallied from a 5-3 semifinal loss to returning state champ Bandede Adeniyi-Bada of Mogadore Field, who finished second this year. Pallinger won two straight for a third at 215 pounds in his first state competition. Compiling a 4-1 state record, Pallinger upped his season mark to 31-3.

Pallinger nipped Chardon's Rick Conroy 3-1 in overtime in consolation semifinal action. He then edged Jason Cummins of Springboro 4-3 for third.

"I'm satisfied with third," said Pallinger. "I wanted to come back today and do the best I could. Conroy beat me pretty bad last week at districts so it felt good to win that one. I have a lot of momentum going for next year. I know where I have room for improvement."

Olmsted Fall's Nathan Funk came to Dayton unbeaten at 33-0 with a sectional and district championship among his list of accomplishments. The Bulldog junior suffered his only three season losses here, finishing sixth at 189 pounds with a 36-3 mark.

HARVEY

From B1

The aggressor throughout, Harvey jumped to a 6-3 first-period lead. Harvey trailed 9-8 midway through period number two after being caught in a reverse cradle.

Harvey

Harvey said. "This has been my goal all year and it feels great to accomplish it. I was a little intimidated down here last year. It was easier this time."

Harvey, a senior, earned a sixth at state last year.

"He (Harvey) worked very hard," Columbia coach Merle Dusek said of Harvey. "He deserves what he got."

Of Higgs, Dusek said: "To be second isn't bad when you consider four of John's six losses were to Courtad. Higgs (25-6) went 0-7 against Courtad over the past two years."

The Raiders earned an eighth-place finish as a team with 41 points. MAC-8 champion Aurora won the small-school division with 75.5 points.

Three other area Division III athletes placed.

Wellington senior Keith Marion became the Ducks' fifth two-time state-placer, earning a fourth at 119 pounds. Marion placed sixth as a sophomore.

"I was glad to get back down here to wrestle," Marion said. "I came to win the championship, but placing means a lot to me too. I feel I wrestled well."

Marion defeated Akron Manchester's Mike Myers, sixth last year, 1-0 in the consolation semifinals. He was then pinned by Wellsville's three-time state-placer Ryan Nightengale. Marion beat Nightengale 7-5 in overtime

MICHAEL'S BACK: No, actually it's Frank Garrity of Bay doing his best Michael Jordan tongue-wagging impression as he tries to get around the defense of Olmsted Falls' Chris DeLisio.

we are capable of playing," Donahue added. "And we lost in the district final last year. That gave our seniors a taste of it and they wanted this one."

The Bulldogs certainly came out like they wanted it more. Chris DeLisio drilled a 3-pointer with just 15 seconds gone and when Matt Tabar hit another with 45 seconds left in the first period, Falls had itself a nice 20-10 lead.

A 9-2 rebounding edge by the much taller Bulldogs helped fuel their offense, which made 9 of 13 field goal attempts in the period.

But it was Falls' defense that impressed Bay coach Dick Scott.

"We had a tough time scoring because they played such excellent defense," he said. "It's tough to score over a couple of 6-foot-7 players. They just had it too easy inside."

Scott was referring to Falls' sophomore Tim Schaefer and junior Nick Neumeister, both of whom are listed at 6-7. Schaefer led his team with 13 points and pulled down 17 rebounds for good measure. Neumeister had nine points and five boards. The Bulldogs won the rebounding battle, 35-24.

The Rockets made a run in the second quarter, closing the gap to 32-26 at the half as Frank Garrity and Jonathon Barth began to drive the lanes, but two 3s by Tabar helped maintain the Bulldog lead. Falls then pulled away steadily in the second half.

Both coaches saw the combination of Tabar's four 3 and Schaefer's inside game as the difference.

"It's fortunate we have an inside and outside game," Donahue said. "If they stop one, we can get the other going. We thought they would try to stop Tabar and double up on Schaefer but they weren't able to do both. And then Chris DeLisio began to score, too."

DeLisio added 11 points, giving the Bulldogs three double-figure scorers.

The Rockets' offense was led by Michael Masterson and Bob Miller with 11 points each. Barth finished with 10.

Scott expects the Bulldogs to continue winning.

"They have what it takes — an inside and outside game," he said. "We had a great run of our own in the tournament but they deserved it."

Bay ended its season at 13-10.

King, of Lorain, improved over last year's third-place showing at the Ervin J. Nutter Center, prevailing 8-6 over Huber Heights Wayne senior Terrence Upshaw for heavyweight bragging rights. King his final High school season at 38-1.

White nailed one of two free throws to break the tie with 18.7 seconds left, and with six ticks remaining, Patton's off-balance shot from the free throw line rolled around the rim and into the arms of Greg Williams who passed off to White.

White was fouled again with 2.6 seconds left, and although he missed the free throw, Williams managed to grab the rebound and score at the buzzer for the final margin.

It was a pure team victory for Lorain. While Schwarz and White may have been the only Steelmen in double figures with 10 points each, fellow starters Lucas, Williams, and Londie Ransom, as well as role players Donald Church, Jason Kurlychek and Matt Sommers gave everything they had to the cause.

"All eight guys that stepped on the court contributed," said Rositano. "It was an unbelievable effort. I can't remember a basketball team playing as hard for as long as they played. They're all excellent students — good kids — and that carries over to the basketball court."

Both teams' defense was stilling. Lorain ball-hawked Lake-

BOXING

Bowe whips Hide

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Riddick Bowe knocked down Herbie Hide seven times and stopped him in the sixth round to win the WBO heavyweight title Saturday night at the MGM Garden.

Bowe took his share of punishment in the wild fight, including several times immediately after he had knocked Hide to the canvass. But the victory, which came at 2:25 of Round 6, kept the 27-year-old in the heavyweight picture.

The 23-year-old Hide, a native of Nigeria living in England, battled back after the first six knockdowns. But when he went down for the seventh time from a left-right to the body and left-right to the head, the best he could do was to get to one knee as referee Richard Steele counted him out.

The previously unbeaten Hide, 214 pounds, outboxed and out-punched the 241-pound Bowe during the first two rounds as Bowe appeared sluggish.

Then, beginning in the third round, an estimated crowd of 5,000 was in a continual uproar as the two men battered one another. The biggest punches belonged to Bowe.

Just before the two-minute mark in the third round, Hide appeared to go down from a punch, but Steele ruled that Bowe had pulled him down. Hide, however, appeared to be hurt when he got up.

Bowe swarmed to the attack and knowed Hide down with a series of head shots. The defending champion got up at "eight," but then went down again from a right uppercut. The bell ended the round moments later.

Bowe continued the attack in the fourth round, knocking Hide down with a five-punch combination to the head. Hide went down again after a left-right to the head, but was up at "six."

Hide went down again at 1:08 of the fifth round from a left-right to the head. Once again, he struggle up at "eight." As Bowe moved in, Hide hit him with seven punches that made Bowe hold. Hide then wobbled the challenger with a hard right and held his own for the rest of the round.

But, finally, in the sixth round, Bowe put Hide down to stay.

"He wasn't quite as sharp as I like to see him," said Bowe's 83-year-old trainer, Eddie Futch. "But he was in there with a very unorthodox guy. If he had been a more orthodox fighter, Riddick would have gotten him out much sooner. This fight will help Riddick a lot."

The 6-foot-5 Bowe's three-inch height advantage and 27-pound weight advantage were too much for Hide to overcome.

Rock Newman, Bowe's manager said that he and his fighter would meet shortly with Mike Tyson to discuss what Newman feels eventually could become, "The biggest fight in boxing history."

wood into 19 turnovers but the Rangers forced 17 themselves. Lakewood made good on 13 of 30 from the field (43 percent); Lorain was 14 of 34 (41 percent). At the foul line, Lorain was 13 of 21 to Lakewood's 12 of 17.
