Lumberjacks finally top Cyclones

Erich Burnett
The Chronicle-Telegram

CLEVELAND — It took a visit from the hottest road team in the IHL Wednesday night to break the Lumberjacks out of their five-game winless funk.

Cleveland fell victim to an early two-goal deficit, then rebounded for a 5-4 shootout win over red-hot Cincinnati, which had entered the game having won a franchise record eight straight road games and six of its last seven games overall.

More importantly, the win was the first for Cleveland (35-22-11) against Cincinnati this season after four losses. The Cyclones (39-13-9), who knocked off the Lumberjacks in the first round of the playoffs last season, have won 24 of their last 27 games against Cleveland.

Goalie Philippe DeRouville was outstanding for Cleveland, while Mike Stevens and Len Barrie scored in the shootout for the tiebreaker.

"Earlier in the season, it seemed like the puck stayed on their stick all the time," said DeRouville, who rebounded from a rough start to shut out the Cyclones in the shootout. "I think it's a big boost for everybody, and if we play against Cincinnati (in the playoffs), now we know we can perform with them."

"We had certainly had our problems with them in the shootout," coach Rick Paterson said of Cincinnati, which previously had not lost a shootout to Cleveland. "The guys seemed to get that old fire back that we had for the majority of the season where we just wouldn't accept defeat."

The Cyclones went to work early, as Dale DeGray took the puck off a face-off in the Cleveland end, slipped behind DeRouville on the left side and found the net just 57 seconds into the game.

Cincinnati added a power-play goal minutes later when Brian Dobbin tracked down a loose puck behind the Cleveland goal and deflected it in off the back of DeRouville's leg for the first of Dobbin's two goals.

The Lumberjacks answered with a power-play goal midway through the first period on a Jeff Christian centering pass that Jock Callander one-timed past goalie Danny Lorenz. Callander earned an assist on a Drake Berhowsky slap shot from the right wing that tied the score 2-2.

Cleveland added a power-play goal by Victor Gervais at 7:56 of the second period to take its first lead, but the Cyclones countered less than two minutes later on a short-handed breakaway goal by Don Biggs.

The tie was broken five minutes into the third when Callander dropped the puck in front of the crease for Rusty Fitzgerald, who knocked it past Lorenz for a 4-3 Cleveland lead.

Cincinnati took advantage of a power play with five minutes remaining, as Dobbin scored on a tip-in from the right side, forcing the shootout.

The Cyclones, whose goaltending tandem of Frederic Chabot and Lorenz are ranked first and third in the IHL in save percentage, were constantly under fire, with Lorenz stopping 39 of 43 shots on goal.

"If not for great goaltending on their part in the second period, we could have left the second intermission up two or three goals," Paterson said.

DeRouville, who had not started in the last four games, recorded 20 saves.

Cleveland will look to make it two in a row against the Fort Wayne Komets at Gund Arena Saturday at 7 p.m.

Official's call kills Falls' momentum

Tim Gebhardt
The Chronicle-Telegram

TOLEDO — Pat Donahue knew his team had been beaten badly on the boards. He knew his team didn't shoot the ball particularly well the second half.

But he felt his Olmsted Falls team deserved a better fate just the same.

Donahue was especially upset that Matt Tabar's game-tying layup off a turnover in the waning moments of Wednesday's Division II regional semifinal loss to Columbus East was negated by a foul.

Tim Matus had made a steal and fed the ball to Tabar, who was breaking for the basket. The official, however, called a foul on East for grabbing Matus after the steal, thus wiping out Falls' basket.

"It was a terrible call," said Donahue, visibly upset following the 67-64 setback to the 10-13 Tigers. "You do not take away a layup off a turnover after the steal, thus wiping out Falls' basket."

"I don't mind losing but I do mind losing when I have it taken away from me like that."

The Bulldogs had dug themselves a huge hole against East. They trailed at one point by 13 points, 55-42, with 2:36 left in the third period. The deficit was still 11 points, 62-51, with only 3:28 to go in the game. The task appeared impossible.

But the Bulldogs rallied. A 3-pointer by Matus, a layup by John Storey and a 3-point play by Tim Scheafer had the lead down to 62-59 with two minutes to play. Albert Moore put East back up by five, but Falls closed to within 64-62 on a 3-pointer by John Storey with 1:21 to go.

Back and forth it went, but Falls couldn't get over the hump.

East was playing like the team that entered the tournament with just five wins. Falls began to rattle the Tigers with full-court pressure. Only time and the back-court foul stopped the Bulldog rally.

A tipped pass led to the breakaway layup by Tabar that brought the Bulldog faithful to their feet, believing the game had been tied. However, the cheers soon turned deathly quiet as the official made the call in the back-court, waving off the basket and awarding Falls possession of the ball instead.

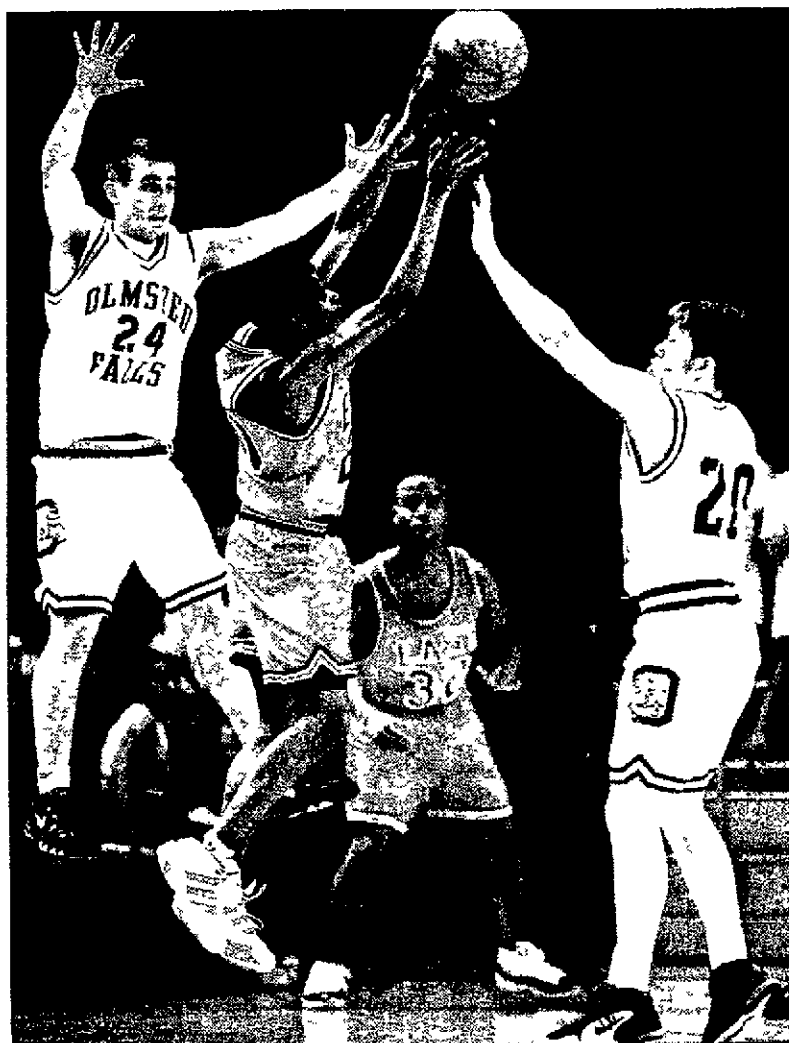

Again, the Bulldogs couldn't find the bottom of the basket and East iced the game with yet another rebound bucket at its end.

"I wasn't watching it (the layup)," said Donahue. "I was too busy watching the official wave it off."

Still, Donahue knew there was more to the loss than one bad call. East was just better on the glass and Falls didn't shoot well.

"They didn't play anyway that surprised us," said Donahue. "They just did a better job at going to the boards than we did."

"We had some open shots. We missed some open shots. What can you do? I can't make any excuses for that. We had several wide-open looks and we just flat-out missed the shot."

From C1

Tabar buried four 3-pointers in the first half but missed his last 11 attempts as East took control. Falls, after hitting 13-of-22 from the floor in the first half, connected on just 10-of-32 in the second. East's offensive board domination gave the Tigers 10 more shot attempts and six more field goals.

C-T's Asp among wrestling honorees

ELYRIA — The Lorain County Wrestling Coaches and Officials Association inducted four into its hall of fame during all-star night at Elyria Catholic Wednesday.

Those

enshrined were Judie Asp, wrestling writer for The Chronicle-Telegram and former state champions Darren Cannon of Elyria High, Jeff Mey of Vermilion and David Singletary of Southview.

Asp has been covering sports, mainly wrestling, for the C-T since 1979.

In addition to covering matches, Asp writes a weekly wrestling column for the C-T and does wrestling features.

She has covered the state meet for 17 years.

Cannon was a three-year letterman at Elyria High, finishing his high school career with a 34-1 season and a state title at 145 pounds, the fourth state championship by a member of his family. His brother Mark Cannon was the state high jump champion for three years.

Darren Cannon went on to an outstanding college career. He was a national junior college champion at Lakeland Community College at 142 pounds.

Mey won the state championship as a junior at 155 pounds.

Singletary became the first Ohio wrestler to finish with a perfect record, 33-0, and win a state championship. He took the 126-pound crown. As a junior he was 27-2 and finished fourth in the state. He was selected a high school All-American.

Singletary was twice third in the NAIA, wrestling for Alaska Pacific University and Northern Montana.
