

SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE BOYS

THE TOP PLAYERS

Amherst senior Scott Canter will bring his leadership skills from the football field, where he was the Comets' QB, to the basketball floor

CHRONICLE FILE

Derek Riedel, Bay

Riedel is the conference's top returning scorer at 17 points a game. He can score both from long range and around the basket and should lead the Rockets in rebounding as well.

Pat Braddick, Olmsted Falls

The hero of the Bulldogs' Division I district championship victory over St. Edward is back to try to give Olmsted Falls a repeat of SWC titles.

Chris Hibinger, North Olmsted

The second leading scorer (19.6 points per game) and leader in assists (4.7 per game) should recover from a broken foot in time to help the Eagles make a run at a conference title.

Steve Turk, Westlake

Turk will be the offensive leader for the Demons. He's their top returning scorer and playmaker.

Corey Sparks, Olmsted Falls

Sparks is the other three-year veteran on this year's Bulldogs. Coach Pat Donahue believes

Braddick

Hibinger

Sparks

his 6 foot 4 swingman has developed a better all around game.

Mike Stanton, Fairview

Senior leadership will be essential for the success of the Warriors. Stanton, the only starter back from last season, averaged 12 points an outing.

Scott Canter, Amherst

A three-year veteran, Canter should be the leader as the Comets attempt to finish higher than second this season.

Max Schmidt, Avon Lake

Schmidt is one of the conference's stars on the horizon. He averaged 7.2 points a game as a sophomore in 2003-04.

THE TOP GAMES

Olmsted Falls at Amherst, Friday

The team that wants to maintain tradition (Olmsted Falls) and the team that wants to get over the hump (Amherst) face each other right out of the gate.

North Olmsted at Amherst, Feb. 4

The race for an SWC championship looks tighter than it has looked in years, and these are two of the teams that are expected to be in middle of the chase.

Olmsted Falls at North Olmsted, Feb. 8

Even if this game doesn't have conference title implications, it always brings out the excitement.

Fairview at Olmsted Falls, Feb. 18

Can the Bulldogs go unbeaten in the SWC three straight years? If they've won their first 13 conference battles, this will be their last hurdle.

Bay at Westlake, Feb. 18

This will be the last time these longtime rivals face each other as members of the same conference. Bay will join the new West Shore Conference for 2005-06.
