GIRLS GYMNASTICS

Freshman moves to own beat in win

By BOB FORTUNA
PLAIN DEALER REPORTER

Erica Trippet is a freshman, but only in title because last night she performed like a veteran.

The music stopped one-third of the way into her floor routine, but Trippet didn't, and it was her stellar routine that provided an added spark to an already-brilliant team performance by Brecksville-Broadview Heights.

Trippet's first-place effort of 9.35, minus the music, helped lead the Bees to a 142.95-141.975 victory at Magnificat in a quadrangular meet that featured three of the state's premier teams.

Brecksville is defending state champion, and Magnificat is the defending state runner-up. Mentor, which placed fifth at last year's state meet, finished third last night with 137.4 points, and Lake Catholic was fourth with 109.425.

"That never happened before," said Trippet, trying to explain her emotional roller-coaster the minute the plug was accidentally pulled on her music. "But I was lucky, because I've seen it happen to other gymnasts. I think I stopped for a second, because I was like in shock."

Brecksville's effort didn't shock Magnificat coach Joe Gura.

"I think they were a better team than us tonight," Gura said. "We made some mistakes on beam, I think I counted two falls. But Brecksville has a lot of depth."

How true.

The Blue Streaks' Kristin Schoch reigned on vault (9.35), uneven bars (9.2) and the all-around (36.35), and teammate Liz Wojtkun won the beam (9.125).

But that still couldn't match the Bees, whose team garnered points for top four finishes 11 times in the four individual events.

"We have some improvement to do on floor and beam," said Gura, whose team scored eight top four finishes in the four events.

"What a great meet," said Brecksville coach Joan Ganim. "I wish they were all like this.

"Our vaulting was probably the best it's been this season. We had better push-offs and better landings.

"Our floor routines weren't as clean in some areas, but overall, they were good."

Junior Mary Koenig tied Trippet, Magnificat's Betsy Norris and Brecksville's Kristen Bohdan for second-place honors on vault to give Mentor its best effort in the individual events.

"I thought our girls did a great job considering this was our third meet in six days," said Cardinals coach Joe Corrigan

"I think we're better on the floor than what we showed tonight."

Koenig is Mentor's most experienced gymnast, but she's flanked by five talented freshmen in Nicole Schutz, Amanda Kozlovich, Ashley Koshiol, Jenna Aingworth and Casey Metz.

"It's just a matter of time with this team," Corrigan said. "This was a good meet because everyone was up for it and nobody held back. This was the first time our freshmen competed in a noisy gym, and they matured a little bit."

Maturity is something Trippet seems to have already mastered.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Ferocious Bulldogs turn back Mustangs

By EDDIE DWYER
PLAIN DEALER REPORTER

#18 OLMSTED FALLS	75
#6 STRONGSVILLE	67

During Monday's practice, Olmsted Falls coach Pat Donahue took an honest approach to last night's home game against Strongsville.

"I told the kids that I really didn't know if we could beat those guys," Donahue said. "We just wanted to go out there and compete."

And the Bulldogs' competitive nature was more than what Strongsville was prepared for.

Olmsted Falls, coming out strong and answering every challenge, defeated the area's sixth-ranked team, 75-67, in a nonleague boys basketball game.

The Bulldogs, who got game highs of 30 points and 17 rebounds from All-Ohio senior forward Mike Gansey, improved to 11-4. Strongsville, which was hampered by early foul trouble, fell to 14-3.

"We're getting better," Donahue said. "And that's been our goal since the first day of practice — to get better each week. With them being a lot bigger than us, we really needed a huge effort off the boards. And Mike, as he usually does, came through."

Olmsted Falls, which is tied for first place with Avon Lake in the Southwestern Conference, rode Gansey's defensive rebounding and the scoring of senior guard Garry Reitler to a 24-10 lead after the first eight minutes.

Strongsville was hurt in the early going when standout senior point guard Nick Skully was whistled for his third foul on a questionable charging call with 5:21 remaining in the first quarter. Mustangs coach Joe Lynch was forced to play Skully in spots the remainder of the game.

Sparked by a three-point play by Skully, Strongsville went on one of its runs and cut the deficit to 28-22 with 5:30 left in the first half. But Olmsted Falls responded with a 3-pointer by freshman forward Steve Gansey, Mike's brother, and a strong move inside by Mike Gansey.

Strongsville, which got 29 points from junior Bob Bossman, closed to 35-28 on two straight 3-pointers by Bossman and trailed, 37-32, after Bossman converted a one-hander high off the glass.

The Ganseys answered again, however, as the Bulldogs got a driving one-hander off the glass from Mike and a steal and a layup from Steve. After Reitler, who scored 17 points, hit a soft jumper from the top of the key, Olmsted Falls led, 43-32, at halftime.

"That was a horrendous call," Lynch said of Skully's third foul. "And it had a great effect on the early part of the game. But I don't want to take anything away from Olmsted Falls. They shot the ball extremely well."

The Bulldogs, ranked 18th in The Plain Dealer Top 25, responded at crucial times. Strongsville cut the deficit to 64-55 on a layup by forward Dave Hutter with 4:48 left. But Olmsted Falls kept its composure and pushed its lead to 70-55 on a driving left-hander by senior guard Joe Stanton, a two-handed slam by Mike Gansey and a jumper by Reitler.

ROUNDUP

Krizancic gets 300th win

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Mentor coach Bob Krizancic won his 300th career game last night as the Cardinals defeated Valley Forge, 101-60, in a boys basketball game.

"This means I've had a great opportunity to coach a lot of outstanding young men," Krizancic said. "Winning 300 means very little. I'm just very grateful for the people I've coached."

Krizancic has a 300-166 record in 21 seasons, including 106 victories in eight seasons at Mentor. He coached 13 years at Girard and won a state title in 1993.

Lakewood 55, Shaker Hts. 52 — Matt Fannin scored 21 points as the Rangers beat the visiting Raiders. The Raiders entered the game ranked No. 12 in The Plain Dealer Poll. The Raiders, who defeated the Rangers by 16 points earlier this season, missed a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Holy Name 59, VASJ 58 — The positions were switched last night. Saturday, VASJ's Vikings topped the Green Wave on a 35-foot jumper. This time, the Namers won when Tom Harrington nailed a half-court shot.

Warrensville Hts. 110, Parma 78 — Demetrius Johnson scored a career-high 40 points as the Tigers rolled.

Girls basketball

Independence 47, Brooklyn 46 — Jessie Crooks had 28 points and 16 rebounds to lead the Blue Devils to victory, and was 10-for-10 from the free-throw line.

Stuckey to sign with Zips

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Avon Lake senior Jeannie Stuckey, a member of The Plain Dealer Seven-County girls soccer All-Star team, will sign a national letter of intent today to continue her athletic and academic careers at the University of Akron.

Last season, Stuckey had 28 goals and 20 assists in leading the Shoregals to a 14-5-1 record and earned second-team All-Ohio honors. The 5-7 forward-midfielder, who transferred to Avon Lake from Gainesville, Fla., her junior year, scored 112 career goals and had 78 assists.

Stuckey, who plans to major in engineering, also lettered in track and basketball last year.

Stuckey will be one of the building blocks for coach Catherine Byrne as the Zips open play as a Division I program. Stuckey also considered Ohio University and Western Michigan.
