● Olmsted Falls — Dave Pellerite, 6-4, senior; Pat Pellerite, 6-4, junior; Alex Seday, 6-2, senior; Tyler Sparks, 6-4, senior; Mike Stallard, 5-8, senior.

Notable

● Diebler, Upper Sandusky's 6-foot-7 forward, is No. 1 on the Ohio high school career scoring list with 3,104 points. He is averaging 41.6 points per game this season.

● Diebler became the first Ohio high school player to pass 3,000 career points when he scored 16 in the first quarter of a 99-73 district semifinal victory over Clyde.

● Upper Sandusky won the Northern Ohio League championship with a 13-1 conference record. The Rams' only NOL loss was to Bellevue.

● The only other losses the Rams suffered this season were to St. Xavier and Greenfield McClain.

● Upper Sandusky scored 296 points in three sectional/district games at Ashland. The Rams hit the century mark in a 100-92 victory over Lexington in the district championship game.

● Upper Sandusky won the Division II state championship in 2005. Diebler scored 61 points and grabbed 23 rebounds in the two Final Four games. His brother, Jacob, now a starting guard for Valparaiso University, scored 29 points and had 19 assists.

● US head coach Keith Diebler is the father of Jon and Jacob.

● Diebler was "held" to 23 points when US beat Van Wert, 79-62, in the regional semifinal game Thursday. Alex Falk led the Rams with 28 points and 15 rebounds.

● Diebler scored just six points in the first half against Van Wert. Falk, however, scored 20 points and had 11 rebounds in the first two quarters. Falk came into the tournaments averaging 17.6 points a game, but has hiked that average with 77 points in his last three games.

● Olmsted Falls has never won a state championship in boys basketball. The Bulldogs last reached a regional final in 2005, when they were in Division I, falling to St. John's Jesuit, 79-62.

● Olmsted Falls coach Pat Donahue reached 300 career victories with a district semifinal win over Vermilion.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

Missouri tops Vikings

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Strong Missouri pitching and some sloppy Cleveland State fielding allowed the Tigers to come away with a 6-3 win Friday at Taylor Stadium.

Ryan Lollis went 3-for-3 with a run and an RBI to lead the Tigers. Junior Vasili Pahoulis led the Vikings with two hits.

CSU (2-12) fell behind 4-1 in the fourth when the Tigers' 7-8-9 hitters each cracked RBI singles with two outs. But senior John Westra belted a two-run single to center to pull the Vikings within 4-3. The Tigers added two runs in the bottom of the sixth to extend the lead.

"If we make a couple of defensive plays with runners on in the sixth, we're out of the inning and it's a different game," Vikings coach Kevin Kocks said.

Cleveland State 001 002 000 — 3 5 2
Missouri 100 302 00X — 6 8 1

CLARKE

begins. It used to play — all the screaming and yelling and face-slapping — back in the day when kids were afraid of authority figures, but now the kids just giggle into their armpits and say, "Whatever ..."

So good riddance to Bobby K and Texas Tech. Who needs ya? But, hey, who's bitter? I picked The Ville and Vandy and Butler. I missed on Virginia Commonwealth, but it tickled me pink watching the bouncing Dukes get sent home.

Just think: Instead of the Dukie face-painters following their beloved Blue Devils through the tourney, they get to stay at home and have their nannies and governesses bring them milk and cookies when they need a study break. Is a big break for the rest of us, too.

Today's big game is Ohio State and Xavier, and I gotta tell ya I have mixed emotions. Oh, I picked the Buckeyes all right, but a part of me frets that the Buckeyes — who drew the easiest bracket — are going to get up a head of steam and win the whole damn thing.

See, I've sorta been enjoying watching Greg Oden and Mike Conley and Daequan Cook and the fellas this year. And, well ... I don't want to give that up. Not next year. It would be too soon.

The fear is that OSU wins the whole shooting match and because it does, there would be nothing left for The Big O to accomplish in college basketball (except for enjoying a full season unencumbered by a wrist injury) — and so he comes out for the NBA Draft.

The school would be like: "What ... already? But, son, you've only taken Orientation, History of Rock and Roll and Square Dancing. Why, you haven't even been to the nice library yet or found the Arts & Sciences building. Don'tcha wanna stick around and enjoy college life for another year? Maybe mix in a real class or two?"

The Pros. Geez. David Stern's Traveling Carnival and Light Show. Four games in five nights. Coming to a city near you. Any city. Eighty-two-game schedule and how many teams ... 54? Which one is Ron Artest on? Gimme two on the floor. Here's my checkbook. Just fill in the number. That many zeros, huh?

They should make it a rule: no coming out early. At least not until after your junior year. Soak up college first. Get some learnin' and some social skills, then turn pro.

Frankly, we didn't get to enjoy the whole, healthy Greg Oden this year. As for Conley, well, for my money, the kid's just a jewel and he gets better every time out. He's on his way to being the next Tiny Archibald or Lenny Wilkens. Mark my words.

I mean, wasn't this year just supposed to be the appetizer for what was to come later? Later being next year and, if we're lucky, the year after that.

And now everyone's saying it might be one and done. For Oden, that is. And if he goes, it would be one and done for the Buckeyes, too — at least as far as making repeated runs for a national championship goes.

So here we are on the brink of a magical mystery tour, with Xavier — always a tough tourney team — as a possible speed bump. Get by that one and, I swear, it's Maggie bar the door — the Buckeyes are on their way to the Final Four.

I'm just not ready to win it all, I tell you. I want to savor the surf 'n' turf before I have dessert and light up a cigar. Want to stay in the moment for a while longer yet. Like, say, for two or three years. THEN we can pop the buttons on our vest and dip our cigars in brandy.

So I say patience, my friends. The Buckeyes can win big by not winning it all this year. Let The Big O, and Conley, too, tarry a while — the way kids are supposed to do.

GIRLS: STATE SEMIFINALS

Late jumper sinks Chanel

The Associated Press

COLUMBUS — Haley Kruse hit a short jumper in the lane with 23 seconds left to lift New Knoxville to a 31-30 victory over Bedford St. Peter Chanel in the Division IV state semifinals on Friday.

Both teams struggled to score in the second half.

Kruse's 10-footer, just her second basket in the game, gave the Rangers (22-4) the lead after Courtney Cook put the Firebirds (18-8) on top 30-29 with 1:04 left on a 3-pointer from the top of the key. Kruse also hit a similar shot to give New Knoxville the district title.

Both teams shot below 30 percent in the second half and experienced long scoreless stretches, including a 10-minute drought for St. Peter Chanel that was finally broken on a putback by Aly Sarosy. Sarosy's basket put the Firebirds within two points of New Knoxville, 29-27, with 3:10 left.

Columbus Africentric 42, Ottoville 39

Chynna Bozeman hit a 3-pointer with just under two seconds left after Columbus Africentric squandered a 16-point lead to give the Nubians a 42-39 victory over Ottoville in the Division IV state semifinals.

Ottoville's Tricia Honigford made a 3-pointer from the baseline with eight seconds left to tie the game at 39 for the Green before Bozeman's game-winner from the left wing. Erica Vorst missed a long 3-point try at the buzzer that would have sent the game to overtime.

Division I

Cin. Mt. Notre Dame 56, Findlay 41

Tia McBride scored eight of her 17 points during a 15-0 run in the fourth quarter and Cincinnati Mount Notre Dame's defense put the clamps on Findlay and its star Carlee Roethlisberger in the second half in the Division I state semifinals.

Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger cheers for his sister Carlee as she makes a basket for Findlay on Friday.

The defending state champion Cougars are playing in their fourth straight state tournament. Notre Dame outscored the inexperienced Trojans — making their first appearance in the state tournament — 19-3 in the fourth quarter, limiting Findlay to just three foul shots.

With her big brother Ben Roethlisberger, the Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback, looking on, Carlee Roethlisberger, the co-player of the year in Division I, scored 12 points to keep the Trojans (21-5) ahead for much of the first half. Her putback gave the Trojans their biggest lead, 12-6 in the first quarter.

But she was held to just one point in the second half.

Stow-Munroe Falls 50, Pickerington North 43

Liana Jennings scored 19 points, including two late baskets that thwarted a late Pickerington North rally, to lead Stow-Munroe Falls. Jennings, a second-team All-Ohioan, repeatedly penetrated the Panthers' defense, hitting short jumpers in the lane or driving for layups for the Bulldogs (24-3), who led almost the entire game. She finished 8-of-17 from the field and also had a game-high 11 rebounds despite being one of the shorter players on the court at 5-foot-9.

DIVISION III

WHO: No. 5 Lutheran West Longhorns (22-1) vs. No. 9 Villa Angela-St. Joseph Vikings (17-7)

WHAT: Division III regional final

WHEN: Tonight, 7:30

WHERE: Canton Fieldhouse, 1815 Harrison Avenue N.W.

AT STAKE: A spot in the Final Four. The winner meets the Bowling Green regional champion at 10:45 a.m. Thursday in Value City Arena on the Ohio State campus.

TICKETS: $8 at the gate.

INFORMATION: Dan Brooks, tournament manager, (330) 454-4736.

DIRECTIONS: Interstate 77 south to the Fulton Road exit in Canton. At the bottom of the exit ramp, do not turn onto Fulton Road, but go straight through the intersection onto Blake Avenue. Blake deadends in the Canton Fieldhouse parking lots. The fieldhouse will be on your left.

RADIO: WOGL 930-AM

Probable starting lineups

● Villa Angela-St. Joseph — Maurice Haynes, Kevin Harper, Nate Barnes, Ashen Ward, Ben Shoaff.

● Lutheran West — Scott Voiers, 6-3, junior; Jacob O'Hara, 6-4, senior; Dave Mancini, 6-0, senior; Mike Telzrow, 6-5, senior; Andrew Hofener, 6-6, senior.

Notable

● The Vikings split with St. Peter Chanel during the regular season and tied for the North Coast League championship.

● VASJ trailed Manchester at halftime of their regional semifinal on Wednesday, but turned the game into a 63-43 rout with a big third quarter.

● Haynes and Harper are the Vikings' inside men and leading rebounders. Harper pulled in 12 rebounds in the Manchester game.

● Barnes is the team's outside sharpshooter. He drilled two 3-point field goals during the Vikings' 13-0 run in the third quarter of the Manchester game.

● VASJ was Division III state runner-up last season. The Vikings were drilled 90-73 by Cincinnati North College Hill in the championship game.

● This is the second straight tournament final in which Lutheran West faces a North Coast League co-champion. The Longhorns defeated Chanel for the Elyria district championship last week. Chanel and VASJ split during the regular season.

● The Longhorns are seeking their second trip to the Division III Final Four. Behind the scoring of Phil Argento Jr., they won district and regional titles in 1998 before losing to Sparta Highland in a state semifinal.

● Lutheran West's Scott Voiers was hampered in district play by a deep thigh bruise. The 6-5 junior is again at full strength, which he demonstrated by scoring 30 points, including five 3-point baskets, against Campbell Memorial on Wednesday.
