

Ridgeville invisible as Wolves cruise

By SCOTT PATSKO

NORTH RIDGEVILLE — Little inspiration was found last night by Elyria West and North Ridgeville.

Simply put, a non-conference game scheduled between two major holidays can seem rather meaningless.

Fittingly, it meant little to Elyria West that North Ridgeville was on the court last night. The Wolverines held the Rangers in the single digits in the first half and cruised to a 67-40 win.

The Wolverines (6-1 overall) held the Rangers scoreless for

Crutcher's 24 points, West's defense rule

5:33 in the first quarter, building a 14-4 lead. Nate Crutcher had nine points in the first quarter and finished with a game-high 24.

Elyria West stretched the lead to 27-9 by halftime as the Rangers had just three field goals.

"They (North Ridgeville) took Admiral King to the wire. They took Elyria to the wire. They've been in every game," said Elyria West coach Mitch Gillam. "We came in here concerned."

After halftime, Gillam was concerned only with keeping his players' minds on the game.

They responded.

The Wolverines were 8-of-8 from the floor in the third quarter, outscoring the Rangers 20-9. Meanwhile, the Rangers were 3-of-12 from the floor.

Crutcher had seven points in the quarter while guard Daimon Mahone had two 3-pointers and a drive to end the quarter. The Wolverines led 47-18 after three.

North Ridgeville coach Dan Rademaker, now 0-7, is still searching for answers.

"I don't know what it was but we laid an egg out there tonight," Rademaker said. "You can't make excuses. We just did not play a very good basketball game at all."

In the five-minute first-quarter stretch in which North Ridgeville was held scoreless, it turned the ball over six times. The Rangers took just eight shots in the quarter.

In the second quarter, the Rangers just made 1 of 5 shots from the field. They missed their chance to keep close by making only 3 of 11 free throws.

"Elyria West has a really nice team. But I don't think they did anything we were prepared for," Rademaker said. "For some reason or other the kids just didn't respond tonight."

Crutcher responded in a big way, coming off a 10-point effort against Avon last weekend. The Rangers seemed defenseless against Crutcher's mid-range jumpers.

"His best weapon is going to be for us to develop some people around him. Mahone has come out and established himself now Robert (Woolbright) and (Brian) Jenkins are both starting to develop. And Schnell is about ready to come out of it," Gillam said. "Yes, Avon did a nice job of defending him. Responsibilities are on our part to take care of that and there are responsibilities on his part."

Mahone finished last night with nine points followed by Schnell with eight and Woolbright with six.

Kevin Jackson, who hit a couple 3-pointers late in the fourth quarter, finished with 14 points to top North Ridgeville. Ryan Sgro added 10 points.

Middies stop bleeding by rapping Columbia

COLUMBIA — It's always good to visit your neighbors during the holidays, and for the Midview Middies, last night's game at neighborhood rival Columbia brought a lot of holiday cheer.

Midview gained its first win of the season by defeating Columbia, 63-49, in a non-conference match-up. Coach Ray Verba was grateful for the gift — even though it did arrive a few days after Christmas.

"The monkey is off our back now," said Verba, whose team improves to 1-6. "We did a lot of things well tonight: excellent defense, good shot selection, and good free throw shooting."

That excellent defense was on display in the fourth quarter, when Midview put the clamps on Columbia after the Raiders had cut Midview's lead to 50-46 with 3:50 left to play in the game. Mid-view then went on a 13-0 run that was not broken until Columbia's Bryon Wolf hit a three-pointer just before the game's final buzzer.

Midview's defense bothered Columbia all evening, forcing them into 22 turnovers, against only 12 by the Middies.

"We're not a big team, but we're always in there scrapping," Verba noted. He was especially pleased with 6-1 senior Kris Crawford.

"Kris ran the show real well tonight with his scoring and passing," he said. Verba also praised Kevin Klein, Andy Dellisanti, Kyle Crawford and forward Cory Dennis, who grabbed a number of important rebounds late in the game.

As for shot selection, the Middies pleased Verba by shooting 50 percent for the night (19 of 38). Klein shot 5-of-7 from the field and led all scorers with 18 points. He was aided by Kris Crawford (15 points) and Dennis (11 points).

At the foul line, Midview really benefitted from Columbia's giving spirit. The Middies hit 23 of 31 free throws. Those throws fueled Midview's fourth-quarter run, accounting for 11 of their 13 points as Columbia was in a bonus situation.

"When you make that many free throws, you are going to win," said Verba.

Columbia's balanced attack was led by Mark Skor, with 13 points, and Barry Morton, who chipped in 12.

Midview plays host to conference rival Admiral King Friday night.

Midview's junior varsity also notched a victory, defeating Columbia 50-39. Janatus Kimbrough led the Middies in scoring with 15 points, while Doug Borling tallied 14 points for the Raiders.

Falls demolishes Sandusky

SANDUSKY — Barborton (6-1) and Olmsted Falls (6-0) will meet in tonight's championship round after downing Elida (1-4) and Sandusky (2-4), respectively in the first round of the fourth annual Streakball Classic yesterday.

Sandusky put up a fight early in their 84-70 loss to Olmsted Falls, taking a 34-33 advantage into the half after Demario Jones hit a trey on his way to 15 points on the night.

"The Streaks spread it around with Jason Jones also scoring 15, Bobby Crab adding 12 and Bobby Manuel and Keithran Pickens adding 11 each. But that was no match for the twin towers of Nick Neumeister and Tim Schaefer of Olmsted Falls, both at 6-8.

"We had some younger players step up and play well tonight," said Sandusky coach John Schlessman, pointing to the play of Manuel and Jason Jones.

But in the third quarter came a stretch when Matt Tabar hit 11 straight points on three three pointers and a bucket, on his way to 26 on the night. Olmsted Falls went on a 31-point tear in the third quarter, ripping open a 12-point lead.

In the last quarter, Schaefer scored 12 of his 31 points to effectively squash the comeback bid of the Streaks.

"It makes for a nice combination," said Schlessman of Tabar outside and Schaefer inside.

Olmsted Falls also shifted into a 2-3 zone that Bulldog coach Pat Donahue saw as the key to the Olmsted Falls outbreak.

"That helped us some," said Donahue of the zone. "It broke down their offense it also helped us rebound. (Sandusky) really capitalized on the dribble penetration and jump shots (until then)."

It was easier to see the momentum shift in the Barborton-Elida game. Barborton used its size advantage to grab a 49-21 rebounding edge as they putaway Elida, 79-55.

"They really got us good on the boards. Their big four got us. Nate Vaughn was really able to get to the bucket and score," said Elida coach Chris Adams of the Barborton player. "His 13 points really broke the game open."

"Obviously we've got two pretty strong post people, but our four little people make us go," said Barborton coach Roger Cramer.

Chris Fillmore and Michael Perry and they scored 11 and 19, respectively with Adrian Crawford adding 15 to Vaughn's 13.

The Barborton Magic took a 4-point lead after one and then expanded it to the high-water mark when Anthony Cardinal meshed two free throws to give Barborton a 28-point bulge at 79-51.

Elida was led by Josh Howard with 16 points and five rebounds. Barborton had Perry with 10 rebounds, Vaughn with 9 and Fillmore with seven as they ruled the boards.

Tonight, Elida and Sandusky meet in the 6:30 game in a rematch of last year's District semi-final and Barborton and Olmsted Falls face off in the championship round at about 8:30.

"It's a very, very good tournament for the area and good for our basketball team," said Schlessman.

Larkin, George to be honored

DAYTON (AP) — Cincinnati Reds shortstop Barry Larkin and

Ohio State running back Eddie George will be honored by a Dayton organization.

The Ohio Professional and Amateur Athlete of the Year Award chose Larkin and George from a list of 15 candidates. The organization will honor them at a dinner Feb. 12 at the Dayton Convention Center.

Larkin was named the National League's Most Valuable Player for leading the Reds to the NL championship series. He batted .319 with 15 homers and won his second Gold Glove.

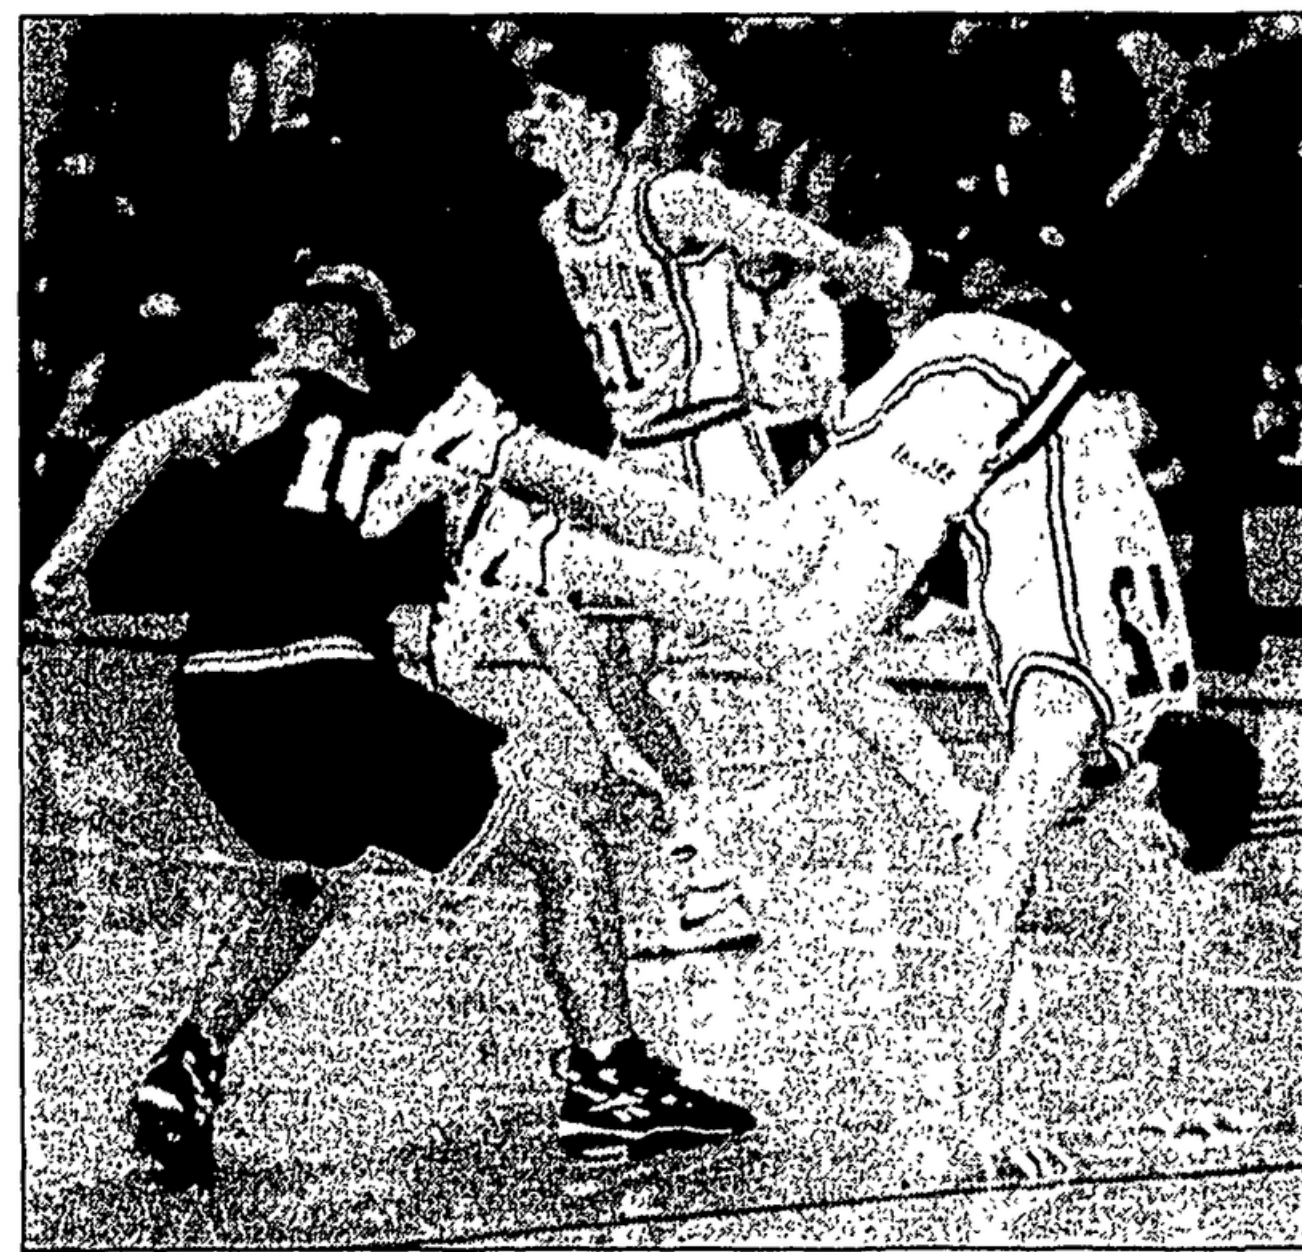

George won the Heisman trophy by rushing for a school-record 1,826 yards and 24 touchdowns.

Gain upgraded

The wife of former Cleveland Browns' defensive tackle Bob Gain has been charged with shooting him during an argument.

The condition of the 66-year-old Gain was updated yesterday from critical to fair at MetroHealth Medical Center, spokeswoman Sue Kalas said. Gain was wounded in the chest late Friday at his suburban Cleveland home.

HAND STAND MAN — Vermilion's Nate Brockmeyer, right, is tripped up by Kris White of Amherst during their game last night.

As pleased as Zvara was with his team's performance, Vermilion coach Bob Walsh was as displeased with his Sailors' outing.

"We rely on our defense, and tonight we really didn't play any," he said as he glanced through his scorebook. "And obviously when we tried to play defense, we fouled too much."

Many times we let the score get into the 60s and 70s we're in trouble. We just don't have the capability to stay in the game like that offensively. Usually we shoot pretty well, but I think tonight we shot horrendous. And we had way too many unforced errors that took us out of our offense before we could even get a shot off," he said.

The Sailors shot just 39 percent from the floor and committed 27 turnovers, 10 of those coming in the second quarter when the Comets made their run. Vermilion made its run in the beginning of the third quarter, cutting the lead to 13 at 47-34 on a layup from Alan Doane.

But it wasn't nearly enough as Amherst built the lead back up to 19, 59-40, by the end of the third. A trifecta of 3-pointers from White, Ross Burke and Mike Pena in the fourth, along with four fast break buckets, allowed the Comets to push the lead toward the 30-point final.

Roth led all scorers with 22 points, while White and Todd Damsiewicz followed with 17 each. Ed Cyrek led the Sailors with 17 points, while Chris Parmenter and Huble Barlett chipped in with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

"Right now, we're playing with confidence," said Zvara. "We've come along quicker than expected, and that's been a great Christmas present for us."

"These kids just don't know when to quit. It shows in practice and it showed tonight. We're playing really well and we hope we keep improving," he added.

Giants' snowball tosser could face jail sentence

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The man who was photographed throwing a snowball at a football game in Giants Stadium was charged yesterday with improper behavior.

Jeffrey Lange, 26, of Bridgewater, posted $250 bail and will appear in Municipal Court at an undisclosed date for a hearing, said state police spokesman John Hagerty.

Lange could face up to six months in jail and up to a $1,000 fine if found guilty of throwing snowballs onto the field during the New York Giants-San Diego Chargers game Saturday.

The Giants and the sports authority offered a $1,000 reward to anyone who identified Lange.
