SPARTANS

LC, now 2-5 overall, and EC, 1-5 overall, both struggling early in the season, had something to prove last night.

"LC took a step forward tonight," said Elyria Catholic coach Mike Kearns. "We are not a good offensive team. That's one of our problems. That's the most frustrating thing."

The first half was a defensive battle between the squads. Their most paltry performance from the field took place in the second period when EC scored 7 points to LC's 5.

The Spartans then switched from a man to man defense to a zone in the third quarter which proved to be the difference as LC outscored their opponents 15-9 in the frame.

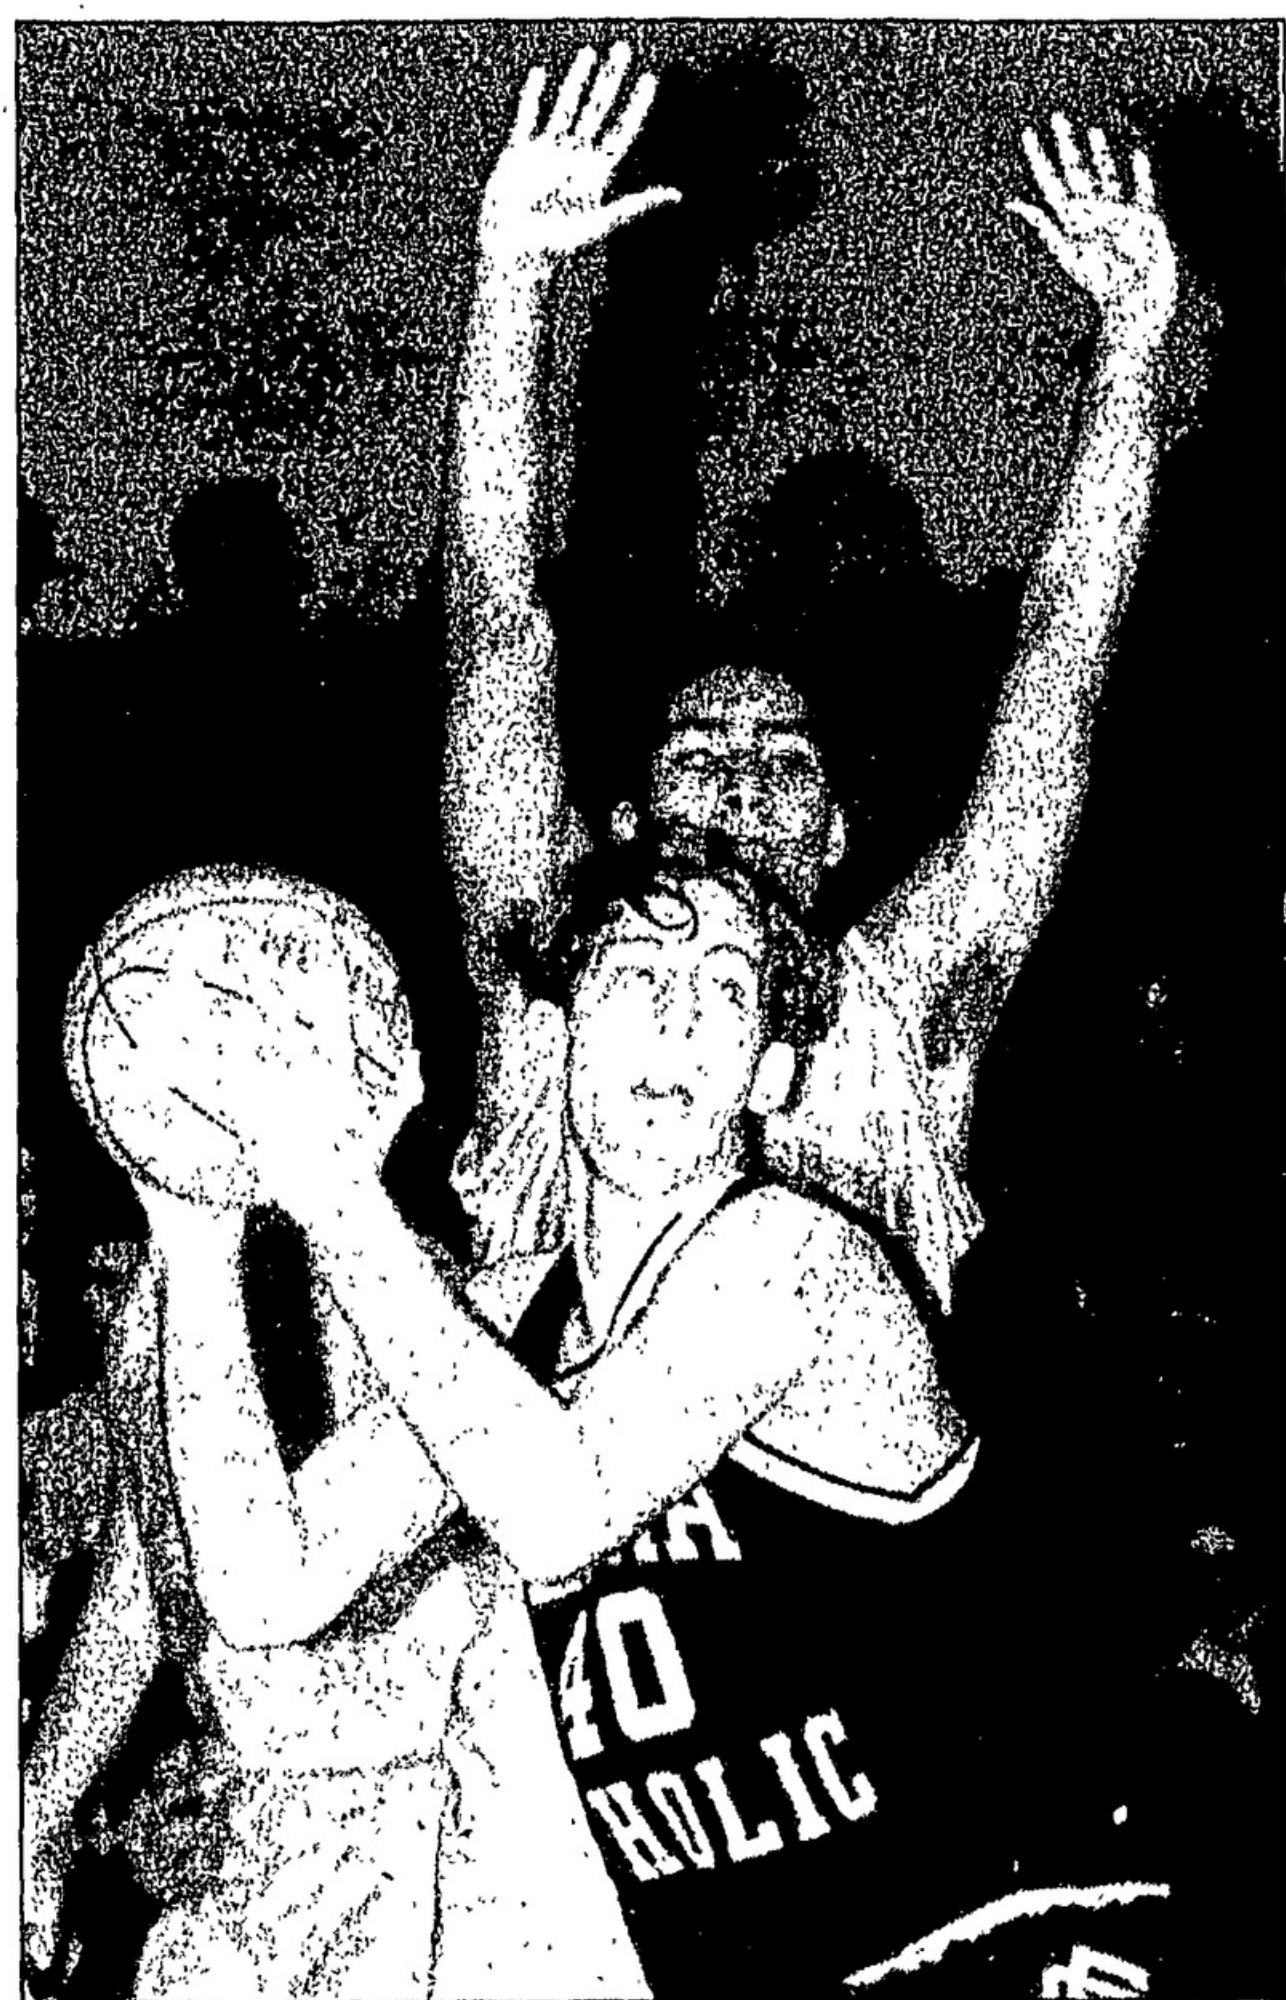

"We should have been ready for their zone," said Kearns. "They didn't do anything exceptional, we just didn't play as well as we expected."

LC held a 32-27 advantage going into the pivotal period and the Spartans collected six unanswered points in the opening minutes en route to a 38-29 edge.

A Pat Davis 3 point play hushed the Spartan crowd and the Panthers inched within, 38-32, of their foes. LC answered as Corey Rose sunk two at the stripe and Sean Smith nailed a put back as LC took its largest margin of the quarter, 42-32.

Davis continued to keep LC honest in the fourth as he drilled a pair of 3-pointers to make the score 43-38, LC. In the end it was the Spartans performance at the line that sealed the win as the group hit 11 of 16 (68 percent) in the final stanza.

"This is a young team that is finally getting in synch," said Lawhead. "Before tonight we were struggling at the foul line."

GLASS CLEANER — Ryan Mack of Elyria Catholic, hauls in the ball as Shawn Callahan, left and Juan Cespedes of LC defend.

"We didn't do a good job of attacking in the second half," explained Kearns.

Jim Francis led his team with 15 points. He was paced by teammates Jason Brown and Smith who finished with 12 and 10 points, respectively. Smith ignited for 8 rebounds.

Powering the Panthers were Davis and Ryan Mack. Davis lead all scorers with 17 points and Mack finished with 10 points. Kevin Fritz won the boardwalk for EC as he grabbed 7 rebounds.

Ripken tops '95 sports scene

By The Associated Press

In a year when baseball needed all the healing it could get, Cal Ripken provided plenty simply by doing what he has always done.

He went out and played.

Every day.

Every game.

And in early September, he reached one of the sport's most cherished records, playing in his 2,131st consecutive game, matching the mark set by Lou Gehrig. To mark the occasion, he hit a home run.

The next night, Ripken was back again for the record-breaker, No. 2,131. And he hit a home run that night, too.

When the record was official, recorded on a huge banner on the B&O Warehouse that sits just outside Baltimore's Camden Yards, the fans interrupted the game with a 22-minute standing ovation, a tribute to what the Orioles ironman shortstop had accomplished.

"I'd like to think that outpouring was for the game, not me," Ripken said.

And then he went out and played again, and again, and again, pushing the record by season's end to 2,153 games. He is the probable starter at shortstop for the Orioles on Opening Day, 1996.

Ripken's relentless pursuit of Gehrig's record was voted Associated Press Story of the Year on Tuesday, receiving 155 of 252 first-place votes cast by sports editors, broadcasters and writers. The Ripken story finished with 2,221 points, almost a full thousand points ahead of the death of Mickey Mantle, which was second with 1,280.

Third place went to Michael Jordan's return to pro basketball after his baseball adventure (1,213), followed by Northwestern's sudden football success and Rose Bowl bid (1,024). NFL franchise moves, including the mid-season announcement that the Cleveland Browns would relocate in Baltimore next season, finished fifth (1,019).

The top five were followed by the end of the baseball strike

(986). San Francisco's fifth Super Bowl championship (604), the Cleveland Indians' season (542), Greg Maddux's fourth straight Cy Young Award (521), and the return to tennis of Monica Seles (505).

The two labor-related baseball stories — the end of the strike and the use of replacement players in spring training — received a combined 1,432 points, enough for second place if they were combined.

In the NFL, franchise moves received 14 first-place votes while the 49ers' Super Bowl victory got none.

The top basketball story was Jordan's return to No. 3, but the next highest was UCLA's NCAA tournament championship at No. 15, followed by the Houston Rockets' second straight NBA title at No. 16.

In boxing, Mike Tyson's release from prison finished No. 14. The top golf finisher was Ben Crenshaw's victory at the Masters at No. 17. Ernie Irvan's return to auto racing from near-fatal injuries was No. 20.

Olympic buys No. 1 TV story

By JOHN NELSON
The Associated Press

In the big-money business of TV sports, 1995 was the year of 2000, 2002, 2004, 2006 and 2008.

Those were the five Olympics that NBC bought during a four-month, $4 billion spending spree which seems to have become a way of life in the television industry.

Everybody was buying everybody and everything in 1995, and a lot of it was sports driven.

The Walt Disney Co. went so far as to admit that ESPN was the driving force behind its $19 billion takeover of ABC Capital Cities Inc., the biggest in U.S. corporate history.

"The industry has a love affair with sports," NBC Sports president Dick Ebersol said. "And with major sports events, you are buying the certainty that you'll have a large circulation of viewers. You can't do that with other sports."

The year's TV sports news also was marked by labor troubles in both baseball and the NHL, and the death of one of the industry's icons, Howard Cosell, who was 77 when he died of a heart embolism on April 23. Cosell had been with ABC for more than 40 years.
