VASJ beats Warrensville Heights; Orrville is next

By DON FRIEDMAN
PLAIN DEALER REPORTER

Last night was last night. Saturday afternoon will be another story, and Villa Angela-St. Joseph knows that.

The Vikings had too much for Warrensville Heights last night and won a game that turned into a playground ball, 95-79, in a Division II regional semifinal boys basketball game in the University of Akron's JAR Arena.

The Vikings (18-6) return to JAR Arena to play Orrville (23-1) for the regional championship Saturday at 3 p.m. To the winner goes a trip to the state tournament in Columbus next week.

Orrville struggled past Poland Seminary, 46-37, in the second game.

To set the record straight, VASJ has won state championships the last two years and four times in the last five years. In 1991, it was the Division I crown.

Orrville returns all five starters from the team that won Division III last year. The Red Riders also won in 1992. But this year, they have stepped up a class to Division II.

"We'll go out and watch Orrville now," said Jerome Davis, who scored a career-high 38 points for VASJ.

"People get knocked out in the regional, so we'll put our hard hats on and work hard in practice."

As for the Warrensville Heights game, Davis said: "It turned into a playground game in the last quarter." Davis could have had 40 points, but he blew a dunk late in the game.

"We played bad in the second half. We won it in the first half. To win state, we've got to maintain the effort we had in the first half. I don't know what happened on the shot I missed. I just put off my concentration."

The Vikings fell behind, 10-9, in the first 2 1/2 minutes, but scored 10 unanswered points to lead, 19-10. It was 21-12 after one quarter, with Bernard Scott scoring seven. The Vikings blew it up to 45-26 by halftime. Davis had 16 points at the break.

The Tigers outscored VASJ, 24-21, in the third quarter and were even, 29-29, in the last quarter.

Nevertheless, the Vikings showed the Tigers too much size and athleticism. VASJ played sloppy ball in the second half. Vikings coach Tedd Kwasniak shook his head.

"It was a win in the regional, and regional wins are so hard to come by," he said. "Warrensville played its hearts out. Sure we were sloppy in the second half, but they did that to us. I told the kids at the half that if we get into playground game, it's to Warrensville's advantage."

Scott scored 24 points and Dale Thomas had 15. Davis grabbed 13 rebounds to lead VASJ to a 37-21 rebounding advantage.

The Vikings' teamwork showed. They had 24 assists to Warrensville Heights' nine. Point guard T.J. Kwasniak, the coach's son, led the way with eight.

Tyrone Savage led the Tigers in scoring with a career-high 29 points, 19 in the second half.

"They have an excellent team," Warrensville Heights coach John Simmons said. "They were strong inside, and once (6-6 Darnell) Sanders got into foul trouble, we had no one inside who could stay with Jerome."

Sanders went to the bench with three fouls with 5:37 left in the second quarter.

"Tyrone came to play," Simmons said. "At the beginning, he was the only one not intimidated. It was a case of inexperience vs. experience."

This was Warrensville Heights' first trip to a regional.

"We played good," Savage said. "We failed at defense and we fell behind. We couldn't come back. We came around in the second half, but it was too late."

Warrensville Heights' strong tournament showing turned an 9-11 team into one that bowed out at 13-17.

Ozell Dobbins scored 20 for the Tigers, Thomas Green had 15 and Sanders had 10 points.

Glenville tops Ignatius

St. Edward defeats Heights

By EDDIE DWYER
PLAIN DEALER REPORTER

With a cut above the bridge of his nose and a uniform soaked with perspiration, Geoffrey Vaughn had the look of a warrior.

Vaughn, like so many of his Glenville teammates and several of the players from St. Ignatius, left it all on the court last night.

"We're trying to make our mark," Vaughn said after the Tarblooders turned back St. Ignatius, 88-84, in double overtime in the first game of a boys Division I regional semifinal basketball doubleheader in Cleveland State University's Convocation Center.

"Three more games would mean [a state title]," said Vaughn, a 6-6 senior and a Kent State recruit. "And we would like to be the first (Cleveland) public school in a while, and maybe the last, the way they're talking, to do it."

Glenville, a member of Cleveland's Senate Athletic League, will take an 18-6 record into Saturday's 7:30 p.m. regional championship game in the Convocation Center. The Tarblooders will face St. Edward (20-4), which stunned three-time defending regional champion Cleveland Heights, 65-61, in last night's second game. "They surprised us," Glenville coach James O'Neal Johnson said. "St. Ignatius was much quicker than we anticipated and they executed much better than we anticipated, also."

St. Ignatius, which closed its season 14-10, trailed, 53-39, with 2:36 left in the third quarter.

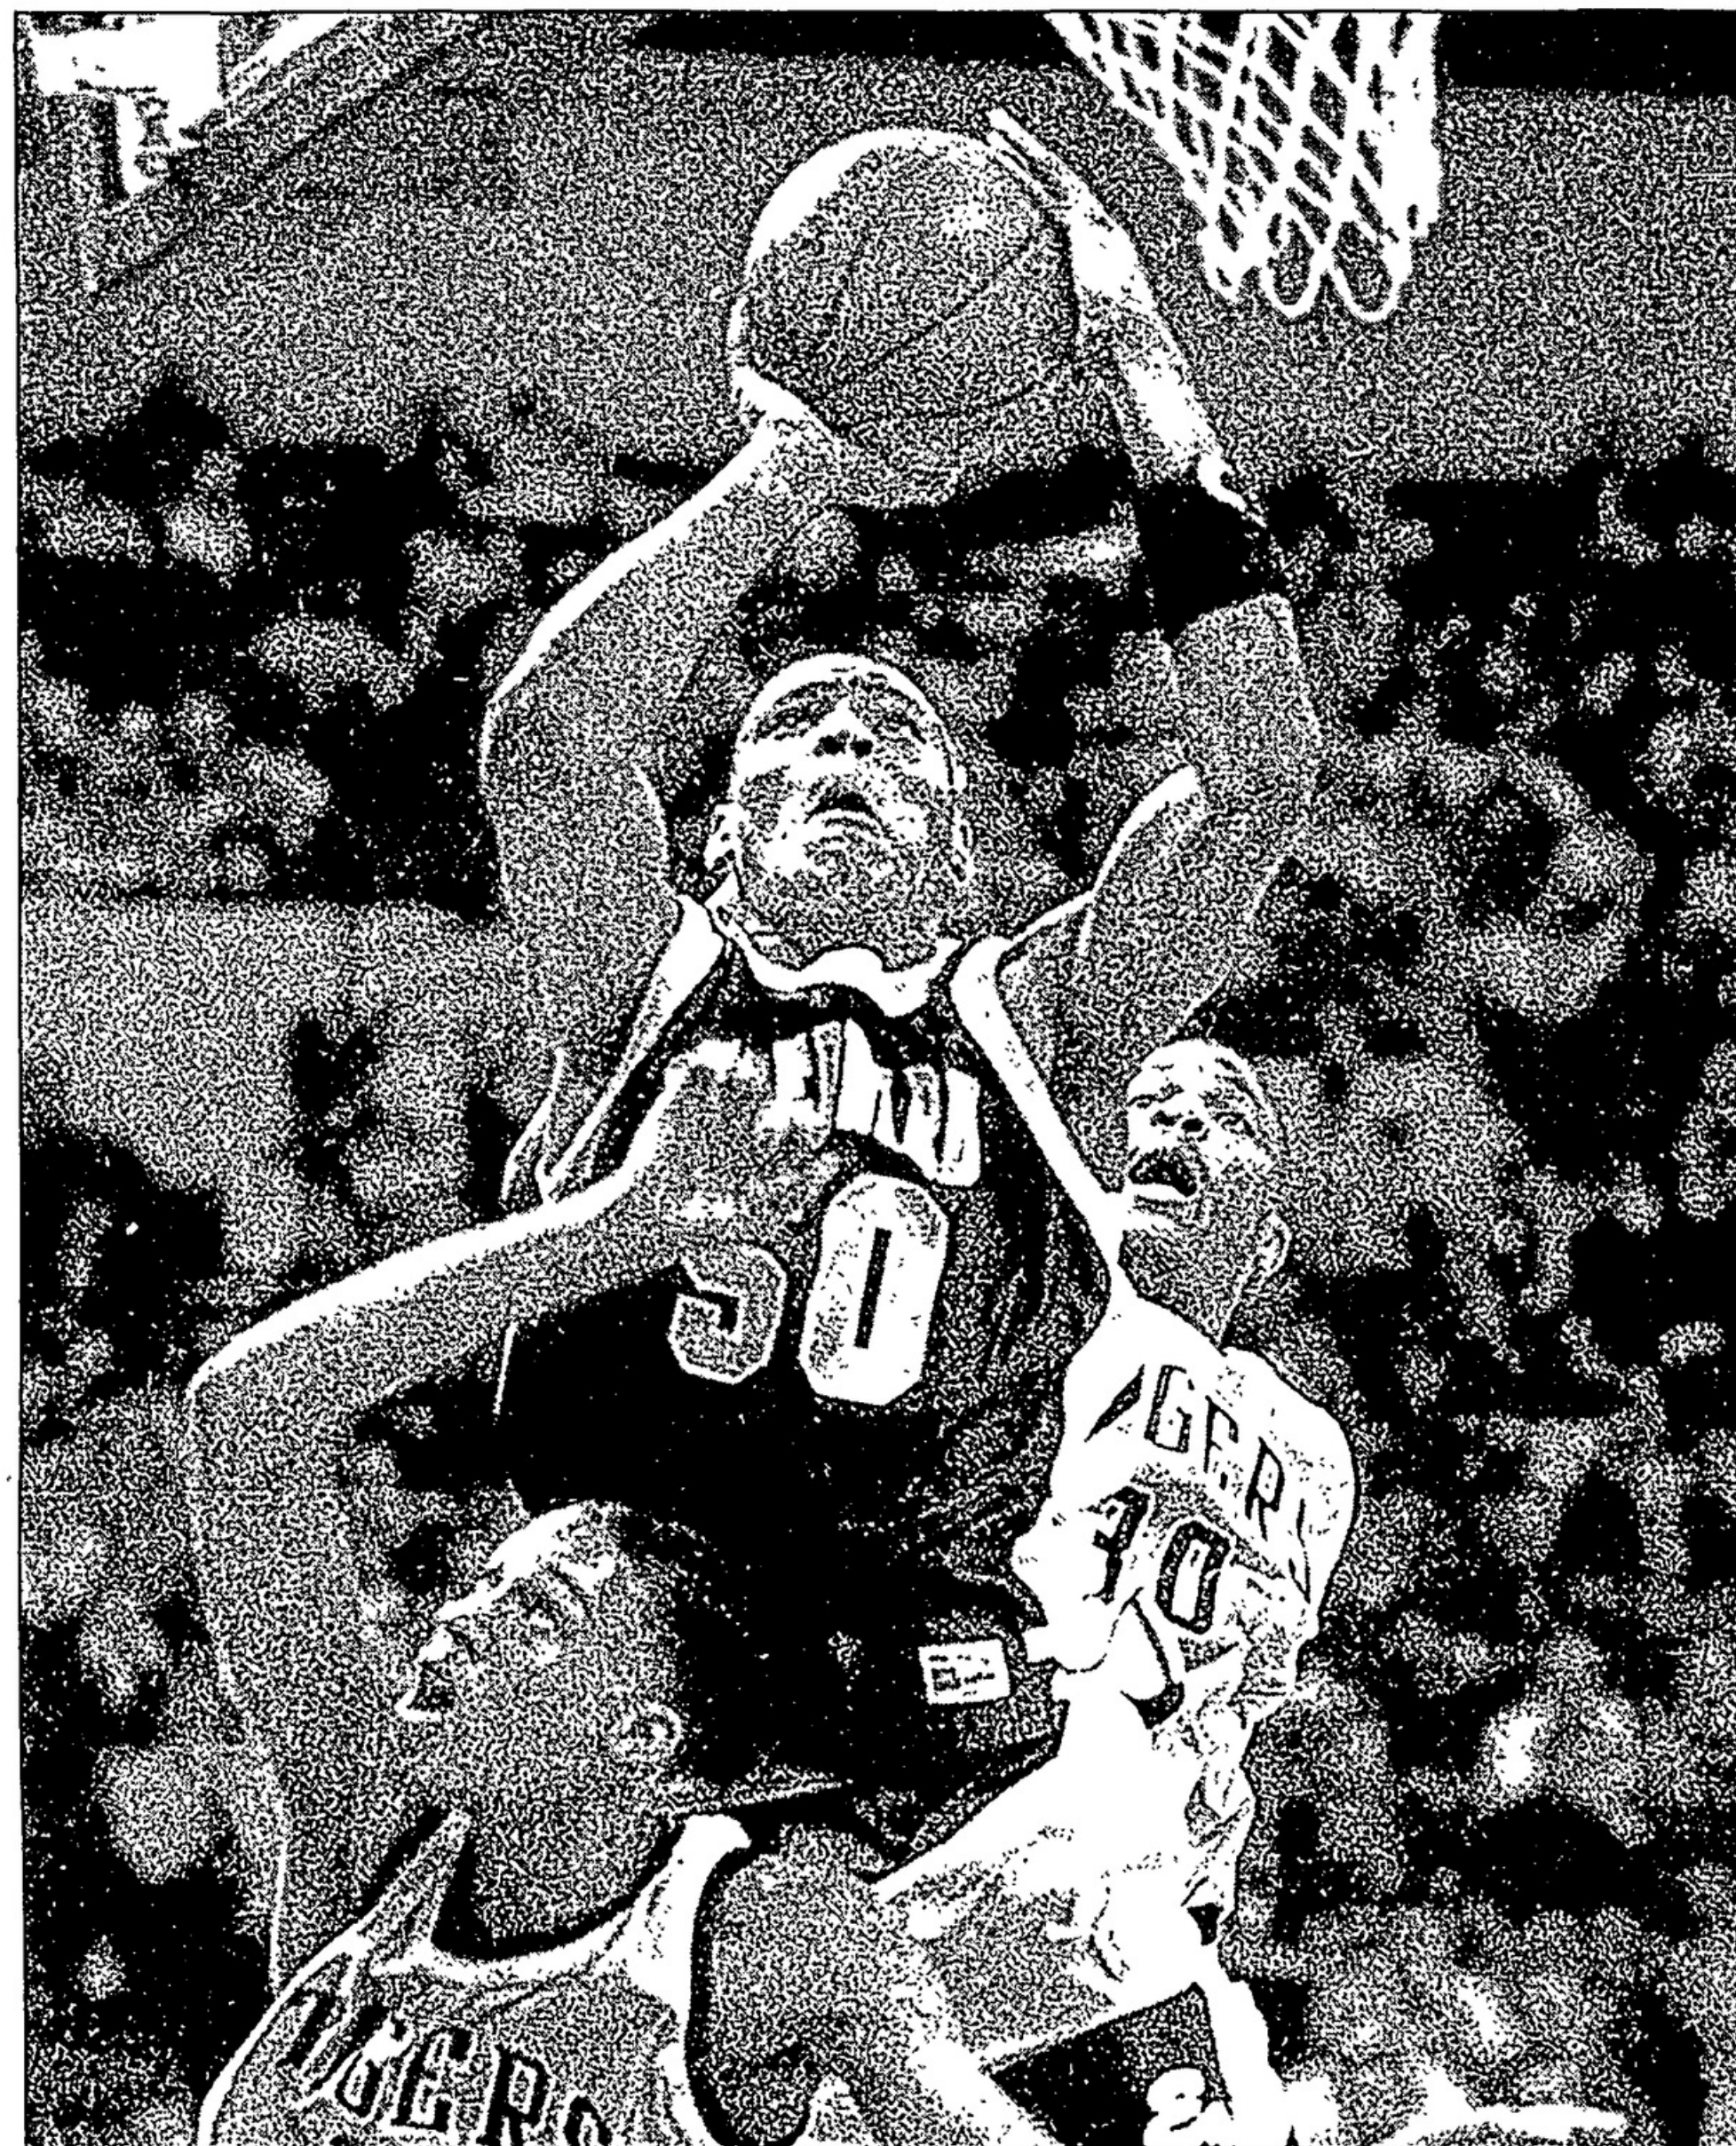

But the Wildcats cut the deficit to 53-47 on a layup by senior forward Scott Beran and trailed, 55-50, entering the fourth quarter.

"We went to hard pressure, to dur run and jump," St. Ignatius coach Brian Becker said. "I thought we had them back on their heels a bit."

Glenville, which was coming off a victory over Seneca rival and previously undefeated Collingwood in the district finals, led, 63-56, after junior forward Dwight Cash slammed home two points with 4:16 left in regulation.

But, sparked by a driving one-hander by senior guard Drew Haddad and a tip-in by sophomore forward Pete Fox, St. Ignatius cut the deficit to 63-62 with 3:13 remaining. Haddad finished with a game-high 26 points, hitting 8 of 14 shots from the field, including a 3-pointer, and 9-of-10 free throws.

"I thought we got tired," Johnson said, referring to St. Ignatius' run. "Antonias Johnson, one of our power forwards, was out with a flu virus. So, we didn't have our normal strong rotation."

St. Ignatius, which lost to Cleveland Heights in the CSU regional semifinals in 1994, held a 68-65 lead after Haddad converted two free throws with 19 seconds left.

The Tarblooders kept their composure, and, with a 3-pointer from junior point guard Tavares Bolden with 6.3 seconds remaining, forced the first four-minute overtime.

"The kid was leaning right, shot left, and it went in," said Becker. "Hey, God bless him for making that shot."

In the first overtime, St. Ignatius took a 73-70 lead on a three-point play by Fox and led, 75-73, after Haddad hit two free throws with 37.5 seconds left.

Going strong to the offensive glass, Glenville sent it into the second overtime on a put-back by Vaughn and led, 79-75, after junior forward Charles Edward Jackson beat the defense for a layup in transition.

St. Ignatius tied the score, 82-82, on a leaning one-hander in the lane by Fox, but the Tarblooders responded with a power move inside by Vaughn and a free throw by senior forward Jason Parker. Glenville sealed the victory when senior guard Timothy Overton recovered a loose ball under his basket and hit two free throws with 1.7 seconds left.

In the second game, St. Edward, behind its backcourt of Steve Logan and Gino Bartolone, took the Tigers (21-3) out of their game early and answered every challenge by last season's big-school state runner-up.

The Eagles, who are competing in the regionals for the first time since 1989, extended a 42-35 lead after three quarters to 58-49 on a spin move around two defenders by Logan with 1:24 left.

Logan, a sophomore point guard and Bartolone, a junior two-guard, combined for 44 points, with Logan scoring a game-high 23.

"I've said all along that we have one of the strongest and certainly one of the youngest backcourts in the state," St. Edward coach Pete Novakovic said. "When you have a backcourt that can handle the ball, make good decisions in transition and shoot it as well, it will make you a good coach."

Columbus East ousts Olmsted Falls

By JACK McDERMOTT
PLAIN DEALER REPORTER

TOLEDO — Columbus East, which had to travel to the University of Toledo for last night's Division II regional semifinal, is just a step away from returning home to Columbus next weekend for the Division II state finals, following a 67-64 victory over Olmsted Falls.

East (10-13) will meet Ottaviano-Glandorf, a 68-67 double-overtime winner over Lexington (21-4) in last night's first game, on Saturday afternoon at 3 for a trip to the state finals next weekend in Columbus.

Glandorf won on a six-foot shot from the right baseline by junior Travis Buddelmeyer with 32.6 seconds left in the second overtime.

Ryan Maag, a 6-4 senior, led Ottaviano-Glandorf scorers with 26 points. Jon Sanderson, a 6-8 junior, was top man for Lexington with 24 points.

Trailing, 64-62, with 1:05 left, Olmsted Falls' Tim Matus made a steal and passed to Matt Tabar, who was wide open under the basket, for a layup.

Referee Phil Roudeshush whistled the basket off, and called a foul on Tarik Gear for grabbing Matus on the steal, nullifying the score.

"There's no way you call off a breakaway basket like that," Olmsted Falls coach Pat Donahue said.

"The basket was good, tie game, no two ways about it."

"Instead, he [Roudeshush] blows the call, and he has to account to no one for doing it."

"You don't dare ask them a question," Donahue said, when asked if Roudeshush offered any explanation for his decision.

"The only thing you hear from them is, 'Coach, stay in the box, or, 'Keep your shirt tucked in. It's just ridiculous."

Following the take away, Olmsted Falls turned the ball over and East iced the victory when Carl Harrison scored on a layup with 14 seconds to play, giving the Tigers a 66-62 lead. Olmsted Falls' John Storey hit two free throws with 7.7 seconds left before Michael Thornton closed out the scoring with a free throw with seven seconds left.

"We fell apart in the third quarter," Donahue said. "We had a whole lot of easy shots and we missed them."

"They simply did a better job of going to the basket than we did. We flat out missed shots and we didn't do our job on the boards."

Olmsted Falls opened a 34-32 first-half lead with Tabar, a 6-0 senior, leading the way with 14 points, including four 3-pointers.

Olmsted Falls was led in scoring by 6-8 junior Tim Schaefer's 18 points. Storey, a 6-2 junior, and Tabar had 14 apiece, and 6-8 senior Nick Neumeister had 11.

Columbus East was led by senior Albert Moore's 26 points. East dominated the boards, 45-23, with Gear, a 6-3 sophomore, grabbing 12. Schaefer led the Bulldogs with 10.

Olmsted Falls, champion of the Southwestern Conference, closes out the season 21-3.
