MENTOR — Eleven locals are still standing after two rounds of competition at the Mentor Division I district wrestling tournament on Friday.

Elyria sends three to the semifinals mat with unbeaten junior Andrew Perez (119 pounds), senior Paul Felton (125) and 215-pound junior James Faught.

Southview has two in the semifinals and Amherst and Westlake have one apiece. The St. Edward local-connection advanced four.

Perez was a dominant figure Friday, flattening Jamie White of Anthony Wayne in 40 seconds, and overpowering Brett Thomas of Mayfield with a 16-0 technical fall in the quarterfinals.

The Pioneer junior puts his 33-0 mark on the line against Chuck Pedro (33-1) of North Royalton with a state ticket on the line. Perez made states the past two seasons in Div. II, placing fifth as a freshman.

Win No. 40 puts Felton in the semifinals against Southview senior Frankie Santiago (18-4). They didn't meet at the Southview Sectional last weekend. Felton pinned both opponents, Tim Ferrara of Brush and Matt Stahl of Springfield, in the first period. Felton is looking for his third state berth. Santiago reached the third round with wins of 8-5 and 6-1.

Faught prevailed with a second-period fall and a 7-1 quarterfinal victory. Faught faces Eastlake North junior Dave Noga today.

Pioneer senior Alec Bottomlee (135) and junior-heavyweight Jeremiah Fitzpatrick lost one-point quarterfinal matches.

"All the guys are wrestling hard but I can't believe we're committing mental errors at this time of the season," said Elyria coach Erik Burnett. "If they correct them (today), we can still take a lot of kids to Columbus. The fire is still there and the kids that lost have a long road back, but they have the talent to get the job done."

In addition to Santiago, sophomore Dan Mitchell represents the Saints in the semifinals. Mitchell (38-1) pinned Jake Distler of Mentor in his opener, then edged Tim Peskar of Garfield Hts., 4-2. Mitchell faces Anthony Wayne senior state place-winner Caleb Metcalf in third-round action.

Mitchell is in the hunt for his second state trip. Westlake senior Matt Bowles reached the 140-pound semifinals, pinning North Royalton junior Rich Norris and edging Anthony Wayne junior Alex Patnode, 8-5, in the quarterfinals. Bowles puts his 35-3 mark up against Mayfield senior Kevin Pietropinto in the semis.

Waller reached the semifinals with 4-2 and 10-8 decisions. Waller's 4-2 victory was at the expense of Euclid state-qualifier Steve Dominick.

Waller meets Garfield Hts. junior Justin Dobies in the 189-pound semifinal.

Columbia resident Lance Palmer, a 103-pound freshman, junior Clayton Stark (112) of North Olmsted, junior Kevin Ward (145) of Avon Lake and junior Ryan Adkins of Olmsted Falls are four of St. Edward's 12 semifinalists. Palmer, now 35-1, pinned both opponents.

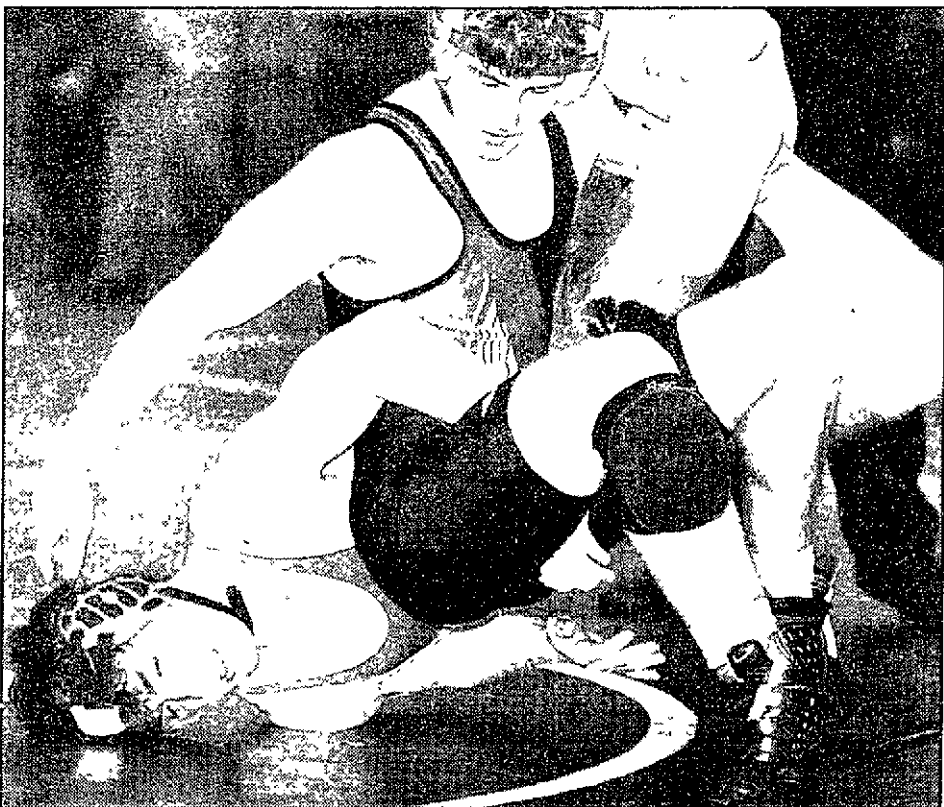

North Ridgeville senior two-time state-qualifier Matt Rabung (119) had to default his preliminary-round match due to a shoulder injury he suffered three weeks ago.

Overall, the area won 21-of-43 first-round matches. Ten additional local wrestlers dropped in the quarterfinals.

No one has been eliminated as the first round of wrestling begins at 9 a.m. The finals are set for 7 p.m.

LINDA MURPHY / CHRONICLE

LIKE PULLING TEETH: Lutheran West's Nick Pallota (top) works on New London's Thomas Wisdom shortly before pinning him in the 135-pound match Friday.

WRESTLING

From D1 record.

"He blew it," Panthers coach John McNulty said. "It was a bad match. These things are going to happen. You just hope they don't happen to your guys."

"Brian can still do it (qualify for the state championships)," McNulty added. "He just has a long road ahead of him now. It's a lot tougher to go in through the side door than through the front door."

French, a heavyweight with a 28-4 record, was pinned at 3:14 by Clint Stocker of Norwalk St. Paul.

"He lost to an alternate," Columbia coach Russ Workman said. "We didn't think he would be as good as he was. Brandon did not come out with the intensity that he's used to having."

Stocker, with a 24-14 record, replaced Jason Wolford of New London, who was disqualified for a skin problem.

Keystone will have two wrestlers in today's semifinals. John Pycraft will be there at 112 pounds and Jason Bernath will go at 130.

Pycraft escaped, literally, against Ryan Tinnel of Edison in the first round, then upset sectional champion Jake Hambrick of Jackson-Milton in a quarterfinal match. Hambrick had Pycraft (39-3) on his back early in the second period, but Pycraft pulled a reversal and pinned Hambrick at 2:50.

Bernath (34-3) breezed through his first two matches, needing just 49 seconds to pin John DeCapua of Richmond Heights before defeating Raub Gilatta of Edison at 2:53.

The Wildcats were in seventh place after the quarterfinal matches with 25½ points. Defending state champion Sandusky St. Mary's was in first place with 69½, followed by defending Elyria Catholic district champion Chanel at 64. Brooklyn sectional winner Beachwood was third with 56.

Also reaching the semifinals was Nick Pallota of Lutheran West at 135, Black River 145-pounder Luke Stretar and Dan Gobel of Wellington at 152.

Pallota (34-8) edged Pat Martell of Dalton, 5-3, and whipped Thomas Wisdom of New London, 12-4. Gobel (41-6) pinned New London's Brad Riley at 1:46 and beat Ryan Roppel of Chanel, 7-2.

Stretar (33-7) had the most interesting route to the semifinals. After beating Adam Bernon of Beachwood 8-4 in the first round, he wrestled to a draw with Brinden Baum of St. Mary's. The first overtime produced no points, and for the second overtime Stretar started in the top position. He was able to prevent Baum from escaping in the allotted 30 seconds, thus winning the match.

Jake Bill, Clearview's 119-pounder and a 2002 state qualifier, won his first-round match over Chagrin Falls's Adam Roberts, 17-2, then was pinned by unbeaten Drew Schafer of Monroeville in 5:07.

Wellington's Andrew Hopkins beat Doug Hall of Plymouth, 13-8, before taking a pin against Berkshire's Sean Keyes in 1:55 at 119. Keystone's 125-pounder Chris Burrer (41-3) won his opening-round match, 6-4, over Cory Conklin of Western Reserve, before getting pinned by Beachwood's Anthony Caruso in 3:15.

Keystone 152-pounder Eric Bellotte (43-3) beat Berkshire's John Osborne, 21-5, then lost to Joseph Whelan of St. Mary's, 8-2. R.J. Hickey, Elyria Catholic's 160-pounder, toppled Bruce Brinkman of Chippewa, 16-7, and was pinned by P.J. Bolanis of St. Mary's with one second to go in the second period.

Area wrestlers losing in the first round were John Taylor of Elyria Catholic (103), Derek

Campbell of Lutheran West (130), Dan McNeely of Wellington (135), Mike Hamman of Columbia (140), Jeremy Taylor of Elyria Catholic (140), Joe Bockmore of Wellington (140), Matt Frindt of Keystone (145), Chris Horn of Columbia (152), Joe Rollin of Black River (152), Kurt Schnittger of Lutheran West (171), Josh Kerchmar (171), Derrick Chapman of Wellington (189), Bill Wolf of Keystone (215), Joe Gibson of Black River (189), and Cory Sheppard of Elyria Catholic (275).

Wrestling begins today at 10:30 a.m. Doors open at 9:30 a.m.

NORTH RIDGEVILLE — What started as a close game turned into anything but.

Medina's Bees turned in a 9-0 run at the start of the second half to sting the Rangers, 55-41, in Pioneer Conference action Friday night.

The Rangers held leads of 12-10 and 24-23 before Medina started its run. Although North Ridgeville kept creeping up and managed to cut the deficit to just five, 38-33, at the end of the third quarter, Medina outscored the Rangers 17-8 in the fourth to ice the win.

Donta Anthony and Ben Chojnacki keyed the Bees' attack in the fourth quarter scoring 10 and 6 points respectively from in close.

Chojnacki finished with a game-high 15 points while Anthony was runner-up with 14.

"We challenged our kids before we came here after a tough loss Tuesday night, and they responded," Medina coach Jody Peters said. "The difference in the second half was the way we played defense. We took away the inside game and pressed them into mistakes which we were able to convert into easy baskets."

The win gave the Bees a .500 record overall (10-10) and in conference (7-7).

"I'm happy with that," Peters said. "We played the first half of the season at 2-5 and finished 5-2."

For the Rangers, it's three losses in a row to finish 11-9, 6-8, with the sectional tournament starting next week.

"I have to apologize to our fans for the way we are playing," Rangers' coach Mark Rechin said. "I'm doing self-analysis right now. They're just not ready to play and I have to find out what I can do to get them ready."

Although the Rangers finished with two players in double figures, Adam Montgomery and Dan Nelson with 11 points apiece, the North Ridgeville offense was virtually non-existent.

Although credit should be given to Medina for some strong defense, the Rangers were also their own worst enemy with 22 turnovers and several missed opportunities.

Rechin will have to find some answers by Tuesday as the Rangers take on Cloverleaf at 7:45 in the Midview sectional.

Medina will take on Kent Roosevelt on Monday as it starts out on the Tournament trail.

Division II at Firestone

Avon, Fairview and Rocky River each have one semifinalist at the Division II district meet at Firestone High School. Tommy LaRosa is the semifinalist for the Eagles, who totaled 21.5 points and are tied for 14th place. Greg Burger (103) reached the semifinals for the Wamors as they have 11 points and are tied for 26th place. Mike Milano is Rocky River's semifinalist as the Pirates have 15 points and are in 22nd place.

Other area team scores and placements are Firelands (5 points, 34th place); Brookside (4 points, tie—36th place) and Bay (1 point, tie—41st place).

STATE SWIMMING

Falcon freshman 11th in 200 free

The Chronicle-Telegram

Firelands freshman Laura Clark handled her state-meet debut well as the Falcon ace placed 11th Friday's in the Division II 200-yard freestyle. Clark, the No. 9 seed and her school's first-ever state qualifier, clocked 1:57.42. She just missed her school- and career-best time of 1:57.34 set at last week's Cleveland State district meet. Clark swam 1:59.18 in Friday's prelims to advance to the consolation finals as the No. 14 seed.

Hawken sophomore Alyssa Kiel won the 200 free (1:49.33). Chagrin Falls senior Lauren Preyss was second (1:50.98). Clark competes in the 500 free today.

Midpark junior Deanna Raedel placed 18th in the Division I 50-yard freestyle with a 25.31. The Meteor swimmer failed to advance to either the championship finals or consolation finals (top 16).

Toledo Notre Dame senior Katie Carroll won the Division I 50 free final in a time of 23.56. Midpark's Katie Krzywicki, a senior, placed 22nd in Thursday's Division I diving with a score of 148.75.
