GIRLS BASKETBALL DIVISION I DISTRICT SEMIFINAL

No mystery, this one's all Magic

TIM ROGERS
Plain Dealer Reporter

BARBERTON
WADSWORTH

This time there was no controversy.

This time there was no goofy, last-minute play that took away from the game. This time there was no referee's error that spoiled what was a magnificently played game between two of the top girls basketball teams in Northeastern Ohio.

This time Barberton left nothing to chance as it outplayed Wadsworth in the second half Wednesday in a convincing 53-41 victory in front of an emotional sellout crowd of about 1,700 at Ellet in the Division I district semifinals.

It was a different scenario from last season when Barberton defeated Wadsworth, 60-59, in a district championship game whose outcome was influenced by a late controversial call that rubbed out much of the game's luster.

That there were no controversial calls Wednesday wasn't the only difference. Unlike last year, the Wadsworth misplaced its game, the one that had produced an eighth-place ranking in the final state poll.

Hampered by a poor shooting night and derailed by 19 turnovers, the Lady Grizzlies fell behind early in the second half and eventually were denied a 10th consecutive trip to the district finals.

"Barberton's defense had a lot to do with that," Wadsworth coach Scott Callaghan said. "Our team relies on our offensive execution and we didn't execute. Credit needs to go to our opponent. They were very well prepared and cohesive. They took us out of what we wanted to do."

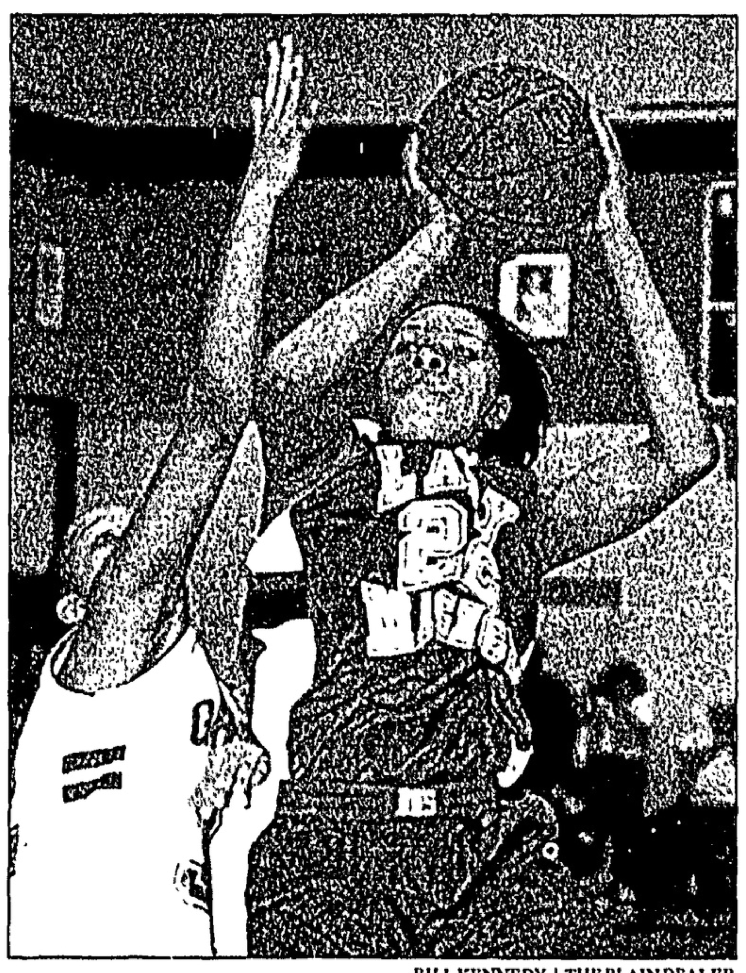

Wadsworth (19-3) was never able to get into a rhythm offensively and made just 15 of 40 (37.5 percent) field-goal attempts, while Barberton made 21-of-49 (43 percent). More importantly was Barberton's game plan that took away Wadsworth's 3-point attack. Regarded as a team that could live on the 3-pointer, the Lady Grizzlies made 1-of-9 attempts.

"It's been traditional for them to make 3s and we worked on that," said Barberton coach Pam Davis, whose team improved to 21-2 and will attempt to win the school's 10th district championship Saturday against the winner of tonight's Stow-Green game. "I don't think Wadsworth has ever played a game where it only made one 3-point shot."

What Barberton's defense didn't take care of, Shana Andrus and Brittany Mingo did. Andrus, who will attend the University of Kentucky, survived early foul trouble and dominated the second half, scoring 20 of her game-high 24 points and getting seven of her game-high 16 rebounds. Mingo, who has yet to make a college choice, carried the team in the second quarter by scoring nine of her 15 points while Andrus was on the bench. Barberton, ranked fifth in the state, won the rebound battle, 30-25.

"They're veteran players and look to carry the team on their shoulders," said Davis, who coached the Lady Magics to the school's fourth state semifinal appearance last year. "I feel pretty confident when they're on the floor."

OUTDOORS NOTES

Ohio sees more bears, bobcats

D'Arcy Egan

Black bears and bobcats are making a comeback in Ohio with confirmed sightings increasing in 2004.

Early settlers cut Ohio's forests to build and heat homes and to convert wood lots to farmland. Along the way, bears, bobcats, elk and buffalo disappeared from the Buckeye State, as well as wolves, wild turkey and white-tailed deer. Deer and turkey have rebounded so well over the last half century that they are again prime game for Buckeye hunters, with a record 217,000 deer harvested by sportsmen in 2004-2005.

Black bears are being spotted in ever-increasing numbers, especially nuisance bears digging in trash cans and knocking over bee hives. While bobcat sightings have gone up, the nocturnal cats are still a rare sight, although a bobcat was killed while crossing a northeast Ohio highway last year.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife confirmed 46 of 91 bear sightings in 2004, almost twice as many as in 2003. Most of the sightings were in eastern Ohio as bears moved in from Pennsylvania, where hunting is still needed to control the population. The majority of the bears were reported from May through July, the peak of the black bear breeding season and a time when yearling male bears are given the boot by their mothers.

Trumbull County has become a bear hot spot with 17 sightings, followed by Ashtabula (12) and Geauga (10) counties. The ODOW has confirmed the presence of bears in 41 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Pennsylvania hunters killed 2,972 bears in 2004, the fourth largest take on record. The Pennsylvania Game Commission reported 56 bears killed by hunters that weighed more than 500 pounds, topped by an 834-pound male.

Bobcats were thought to be extinct in Ohio by the 1850s. A century later sightings began to pop up and in 2004, 14 bobcat sightings were confirmed, up from 10 in 2003. Since 1970, the ODOW has verified 74 bobcat sightings in 32 counties.

Big bucks: The Buckeye Big Buck Club banquet is Saturday evening at Fin Feather Fur Outfitters on Rt. 250, just east of I-71, in Ashland and most deer hunters will stop by early to check out the impressive collection of antlers and the hunting exhibits. The club's deer show is from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. with a $3 admission.

Falls fish, hunt show: The second annual Outdoor Sport and Travel Expo will take over Emidio's Expo Center at 48 E. Bath Rd. in Cuyahoga Falls this weekend. The show is hosted by Falls Outdoor Sports and Vic's Sports Center and is open on Friday, 5-9 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m.-7 p.m.; and Sunday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Admission is $3, $2 for kids 6-11.

The first 100 kids under 12 on Saturday and Sunday will get a free fishing rod. The first 25 teens from 13-18 get a reel on Saturday. Exhibits range from fishing tackle to sports clubs, fishing charters, antique lures and taxidermy.

More shows: The Sportsman's Outdoor Gear Flea market will fill the American Sportsman Shop, 27736 Royalton Rd., Columbia Station on Saturday from 9 a.m.-7 p.m. Hosted by the Columbia Game Club, admission is $2 with kids 16 and under free.

Duck doings: The Cleveland Hailers Chapter of Ducks Unlimited has its banquet Saturday at the West Park Party Center on W. 130th St. and Lorain Ave. April Blaylock (216-749-7758) can take reservations through today. The Ohio State DU Convention is Friday through Sunday in Wilmington, Ohio.

HOCKEY DISTRICT SEMIFINAL

Bruins reverse trend, skate to district final

TIM WARSINSKEY
Plain Dealer Reporter

PADUA	5
ST. IGNATIUS	2

In high school hockey, the past rarely is an accurate indicator of the future. That's the good news-bad news reality for Padua at the district tournament this week.

The Bruins ignored recent failings and knocked off St. Ignatius, 5-2, in a district semifinal Wednesday at Brooklyn Recreation Center.

Now, Padua must contend with its well-motivated rival, St. Edward, for a trip to the state Final Four. The district championship Saturday at 7 p.m. will be the seventh meeting this season between No. 2 seed Padua (24-10) and No. 1 St. Edward (27-10-1). Padua is 5-1 against the Eagles, including a win in the Baron Cup final.

The Bruins were 0-2 against St. Ignatius this season, and fell behind early in both losses. On Wednesday, Padua scored the first two goals and led, 3-1, after one period.

Padua shut down the Wildcats' powerful line of center Dan McClain and wings Jack Ubbing and Tim O'Shaughnessy. In 2002 and 2003, St. Ignatius beat Padua in the district semifinals behind big games by McClain.

The Bruins countered Wednesday with their checking line of Chris Coyle, Jack Stryffeler and Bobby Soinski. Coyle frequently marked McClain.

Padua's depth was a major factor. Five Bruins scored —forwards Matt Feda, Justin Phenney and Aaron Richnavsky and defensemen Zak Kusek and Jake Coyle.

Skating with the early lead, Padua played four lines while St. Ignatius frequently rotated its top two lines. St. Ignatius also had to kill seven Padua power plays while the Wildcats had just one.

"We got up early, and that was the main point," Richnavsky, a junior who had a goal and an assist. "We wore them down. We had more depth and kept their legs moving."

Kevin Colleran and Brian Schnell scored for St. Ignatius (19-14-1).

Padua has won six in a row since losing to St. Ignatius on Jan. 30.

"We just laid an egg and they're on a roll," St. Ignatius coach Pat O'Rourke said. "They've improved and we sort of hit a plateau."

Five players received 10-minute misconduct penalties in the closing minutes, three from St. Ignatius. McClain had to be wrestled to the ice by a referee during one scuffle.

ROUNDUP

Knights again defeat SVSM, will advance

From staff reports

The Hoban Knights got clutch points from Meagan Gambone and Katie Arbogast on Wednesday night in turning back longtime rival St. Vincent-St. Mary, 38-35, in a Division II girls basketball district semifinal at Uniontown Lake.

Hoban, which also defeated the Irish, 40-38, in a regular-season thriller on Dec. 8, moves on with a record of 18-5. SVSM closes its season at 14-8.

Trailing by 10 points after three quarters, the Irish went on a 15-4 run. But Gambone responded with a layup and Arbogast hit two free throws with [illegible] seconds left.

Boys Division I sectionals

Olmsted Falls 50, North Olmsted 46: OK, so the defending Midview champion had to work overtime. But after losing to their SWC rivals twice during the regular season, the Bulldogs were happy just to leave Grafton with a W.

Olmsted Falls, behind a 3-pointer and two free throws by senior forward Pat Braddick, advanced to Saturday's 8 p.m. sectional championship game against Brunswick (16-5). With Braddick scoring a game-high [illegible] points, the Bulldogs improved to 16-5.

Shaw 72, Eastlake North 62: Fresh off its share of the LEL Erie Division championship, the Red Ball Express (15-6) continued its winning cruise at the Euclid semifinals. Starley Johnson (15 points), Omar Powell (15 points) and Deonte Murphy (13 points) showed the way.

Division II at Madison

Harvey 68, Lake Catholic 57: The Red Raiders withstood a one-hour delay in the second quarter because of a power failure and a third quarter rally by the Cougars in improving to 20-1. Lake Catholic closed to within three points before Harvey's Jeff Spikes took over by scoring 12 of his 18 points in the fourth quarter.

District hockey

Lake Catholic 3, University School 2: Cougars senior center J.J. Plutt's goal on an assist from wing Billy Fetsko broke a 2-2 tie with six minutes remaining in the third period in a semifinal at Kent State. No. 2 seed Lake Catholic (23-10) plays for the district championship and a chance to make its first trip to the state semifinals Saturday at 7 p.m. against No. 1 seed Shaker Heights (22-7).

Separate charges for sectional doubleheaders

Because of the anticipated attendances, tournament officials have decided to clear the gym between games and charge separate admissions for both Friday night's and Saturday night's Division I sectional-final boys basketball doubleheaders at Brecksville-Broadview Heights High School.

On Friday night, top-seeded Midpark will face defending district champion Rhodes at 6:30, followed by second-seeded Solon against Normandy. Saturday's doubleheader matches fourth-seeded St. Ignatius against North Royalton at 6:30, followed by third-seeded Strongsville against Valley Forge.

Tournament manager Chuck Hendricks said the same policy will be in effect for the district-semifinal doubleheader on Tuesday night at Baldwin-Wallace College.
