Mentor's big second-half run stuns VASJ, 83-61

BOYS BASKETBALL

Mentor and Villa Angela-St. Joseph annually play schedules that are among the state's most difficult.

Mentor has had mixed success against its premier opponents in recent seasons. VASJ has had little but success, winning four of the last six Division II state titles.

Last night, the past meant little. Mentor dominated the second half and defeated host VASJ, 83-61, in a season-opening, nonleague game.

"We thought we would have a lot of problems here," Mentor coach Bob Krizancic said after the Cardinals clinched the victory with a 42-19 run during an 11-minute span of the third and fourth quarters.

"It gives the kids a real boost of confidence to come here and win against a team with a great tradition, and one that has a lot of talent."

Mentor, a Division I team, was 13-9 last season. VASJ went 18-7 and was a regional finalist.

"We just got whipped," Vikings coach Tedd Kwasniak said. "They played a great game, but I was down on our kids. But, it's a long season."

Senior forward Jason Woleben and senior guard Jason Scheff scored 21 and 20 points, respectively, for Mentor. Brian Krofcheck, a junior guard for the Cardinals, scored all 17 of his points in the second half, including 13 in the decisive third quarter.

"In the first half, I had no confidence," said Krofcheck, who was 0-for-3 shooting in the first half but made 7 of 8 field-goal attempts in the second half, including all three of his 3-point shots.

"I was a little nervous, a little afraid to take my shots, because I hadn't been hitting in scrimmages," Krofcheck said. "Coach told me to step it up, and I did. Once I hit my first shot of the second half, I knew I'd be OK."

Mentor led, 33-29, at halftime, after Adam Stupica made two free throws for the Cardinals and Bob Sivik made a follow shot.

Mentor would have led by a greater margin, but the Cardinals missed 24 of their 34 first-half field shots, many of them open ones.

In the third and fourth quarters, Mentor took advantage of its midseason-like execution on offense, making 14 of 24 field-goal attempts.

"Our three guards, Jason Woleben, Jason Schefft and Brian Krofcheck, really came through," Krizancic said. "They took it out of [VASJ] every time. They were hitting 3s and moving the basketball."

The Cardinals also made free throws, sinking 29 of 34. And they outrebounded VASJ, 34-29.

The Vikings were led by 6-6 forward Dale Thomas, with 18 points, 10 rebounds and five blocked shots. But he was smothered by Mentor's big men — Sivik, Stupica, Woleben and Gary Lane — during the Cardinals' second-half run.

Thomas made two free throws to pull VASJ within 33-31 early in the third quarter.

Krofcheck then scored 13 points to highlight a 22-11 Mentor run that ended with the Cardinals ahead, 55-42, with 3:20 left in the third quarter.

Krofcheck hit all of his 3-pointers during the surge. He grabbed an offensive rebound to the left of the basket and spun to the other side to make a reverse layup, and he drove the lane for a basket.

Mentor led, 60-50, with 7:30 left in the game. In the next three minutes, the Cardinals scored 15 points and blanked the Vikings.

Woleben scored nine of the points, hitting a 3-pointer, making four free throws and converting a fastbreak layup.

"During the scrimmages, we didn't get into our offensive sets very well," Krofcheck said. "That's what we worked on this week.

"We're mainly supposed to run and gun, but we ran our set plays well tonight."
